

Kenilworth Bride Wears Heirloom Lace at Wedding

When Charlotte Eckhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Eckhart, of Kenilworth, became the bride of Thomas Roswell Coyne last Saturday afternoon, she wore an ivory satin gown with a yoke and deep cuffs, and a cap of rare rose point lace which had adorned the wedding gown of her great-grandmother, Mrs. Robert Briggs. From the rosepoint lace cap came a tulle veil which fell in soft folds to the end of a short train. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids shading to deep wine color, and lilies of the valley.

Dr. Herbert L. Willett left a convention in Indianapolis to officiate at Miss Eckhart's marriage, which took place at 4 o'clock at her parents' home, 206 Cumberland avenue. The bride's two sisters, Mrs. James R. D. Stevenson, Jr. of Chicago and Mrs. Donald H. McLaughlin of Cambridge, Mass., matrons of honor, were gown-ed in rust colored velvet with turbans to match. They carried bouquets of Pernet roses. The bride's younger sister, Elizabeth Eckhart, who was maid of honor, wore beige velvet and a matching turban. Her flowers were also roses. Mrs. Eckhart's gown was of beige crepe trimmed in sable. She carried purple orchids. The groom's mother wore brown.

Willis H. Littell of Evanston served Mr. Coyne as best man, while the ushers were James R. D. Stevenson, Jr. and William Nicholls of Winnetka. A quartet from the Little Symphony orchestra played for the wedding and during the reception.

After a honeymoon journey to Virginia Hot Springs the bride and bridegroom will stay with Mr. Coyne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coyne, 240 Melrose avenue, until they find an apartment.

The bride's sisters left last Sunday, Mrs. Stevenson returning to her home in Cambridge and Elizabeth resuming her studies at Vassar.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Capin, Mr. and Mrs. F. Fifer of Bloomington, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Winslow of South Haven, Mich., Dr. and Mrs. Cecil M. Jack of Peoria, and Mrs. Coyne's sister, Mrs. Grannis, who came from Los Angeles, Cal. to attend the wedding.

Evanston Gridders Trim Sears' Teams

Teams representing the Joseph Sears school in Kenilworth have not had much success thus far this season in their North Shore Grammar School Football league games. Monday afternoon of this week the Kenilworth 85 and 100-pound teams lost to the Haven school of Evanston by 12 to 0 and 18 to 0 scores, respectively. The games were played in Evanston. Last week the 85 and 100-pound Kenilworth teams played the Nichols school of Evanston at Kenilworth. The 85-pound teams played a scoreless tie, and Nichols won, 7 to 0, in the one hundred pound class.

Tuesday afternoon of this week the Nichols 115-pound team was scheduled to play Joseph Sears at Kenilworth, with "Red" Howell, University of Chicago player, acting as referee.

The Kenilworth 85 and 100-pound teams will meet Nichols at Mason park, Evanston, Friday afternoon, and on Saturday morning teams in all three classes from Glencoe and Kenilworth will battle at the Joseph Sears school field.
