Name Five Episcopal Guilds for Bishops

Due to the fact that the Woman's guild and auxiliary of the Church of the Holy Comforter has outgrown the Guild room of the church, the rector has organized five guilds, each named after a bishop of the diocese. All women of the parish have been assigned to these various groups. The meetings will be held twice a month instead of every week, in the homes, and a simple luncheon will be served. The guilds are as follows:

Bishop Philander Chase guild—Mrs. J. A. Carruthers, 1535 Walnut avenue, Wilmette, president; Mrs. Robert Baldwin, 1218 Glendening road, Wilmette, vice-president.

Bishop William E. McLaren guild—Mrs. W. H. Smythe, 43 Kenilworth avenue, Kenilworth, president; Mrs. William A. Whittier, 57 Kenilworth avenue, vice-president.

Bishop Henry J. Whitehouse guild—Mrs. R. M. Burns, 814 Essex road, Kenilworth, president; Mrs. A. E. Riddle, 127 Bertling lane, Winnetka, vice-president.

Bishop George Craig Stewart guild—Mrs. Irving Jackson, 108 Fuller lane, Winnetka, president; Mrs. L. E. Mitten, 159 Fuller lane, Winnetka, vice-president.

Bishop Charles P. Anderson guild—Mrs. Melvin Hawley, 515 Warwick road, president; Mrs. Alex Joslin, 240 Essex road, vice-president.

The first meeting was on Monday, October 17, at 11 o'clock, at the homes of each of the presidents.

Mrs. Harry P. Harrison, 307 Abbotsford road, Kenilworth, returned to her home early this week after a fortnight's stay at her summer place at Leland, Mich.

Leo M. Dean of Perryville, Mo., was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Schroeder, 440 Prospect avenue.

Mrs. Harry C. Pifer, 1620 Lake avenue, was hostess last Tuesday afternoon for three tables of bridge.

Capacity Crowd Attends Program at High School

Approximately three thousand persons, a capacity crowd, attended the "Stars of the Ether" program at New Trier High school last Friday night. The event, sponsored by the Tri-Ship Boys' club of the high school, was held for the purpose of raising money to help many boys now attending New Trier who would be unable to continue in school without financial assistance.

The professional entertainers, all from the Chicago studios of the National Broadcasting company, were Jean Paul King, announcer, Doctors Pratt and Sherman, Clara, Lu and Em, the Commodores male quartet, the Pickard family, the Co-eds' trio and Hal Totten, sports announcer.

The student acts, including selections by the New Trier boys' octet under the direction of Miss Winnifred Mickey, and several accordin numbers by Bob Cutler, were well received. Members of the octet are: Frank Christenson and Bill Jenkins, first tenors; Arthur Katzel and William McFadzean, second tenors; John Phillips and Bob Guthrie, first basses, and Richard Olson and Ted Hoskins, second basses.

Praises Boys' Efforts

The corps of ushers, composed of members of the Tri-Ship club, functioned exceptionally well, and the Tri-Ship officers and advisor room representatives who handled the ticket sale and other preliminary arrangements did this work in an unusually effective manner. F. D. Frishie, faculty sponsor of the club, said this week.

Mr. Frishie announced that the Tri-Ship club has made arrangements for the appearance at the high school on February 20 of William Beebe, well known scientist and authority on deep sea exploration work.
