CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Probation after Death" will be the subject at the services in First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Wilmette Sunday morning, October 23, at 11 o'clock. Sunday school convenes at 9:45 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Horween, 1109 Forest avenue, returned Saturday from their summer home, Coryell Island in northern Michigan. Mrs. Horween had been there since June 1

Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Carlson, 1537 Spencer avenue, spent the week-end in Morris, Ill., where they went to attend Mr. Carlson's mother's wedding anniversary.

At Catholic Club

By J. T. B.

Glimpses into the home life of some of its music minded, literary minded, and drama minded members and their children were given to those attending the meeting of the fine arts department of the Woman's Catholic club of Wilmette last Friday afternoon. It was homecoming day, and to convey that impression further, the stage itself was foreshortened to resemble a living room with its huge basket of autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, and its soft red silk embroidered shawl thrown over the grand piano. Mrs. Russell G. Flood was presiding hostess, introducing to her guests, those giving the varied and charming program.

On Program

Mrs. Harry Sherwin gave resumes of a group of "best sellers," most of which she herself reviewed; other reviews she quoted. This list included Willa Cather's "Obscure Destinies," J. B. Priestley's "Faraway," "The Fountain," by Charles Morgan; "Old Wine and New," by Waring Deeping; "The Sheltered Life," by Ellen Glasgow; "A Good Man's Love," by Delafield; "What Men Live By," by Abbé Dimmet.

Mrs. John Tracey and her daughter, Josephine, played the Brahms' Hungarian Dance number 5 as the second number on the program. This was followed by a mother-daughter number by Mrs. Edward F. Cumiskey and her daughter, Ida Catherine. The former gave a recitation, "Joseph Walter's Last Ride," a dramatic poem she recited on a program thirty years ago. Her daughter then recited "Reveries of a Maiden," written by Mrs. Cumiskey thirty years ago; then concluded with "Guiseppe, The Barber."

The fourth number of the program were two violin solos by Bernard Flood, who not quite 11 years old, is concert meister in the Grammar school orchestra. He played the Second Valse de Concert, "The Juggler," by Severn, and "Reverie" by Fauconier. His mother was his accompanist.

Number five on the program was Yvonne Meyer's recital of "In the Usual Way," with her mother, Mrs. August L. Meyer her accompanist.

A guest number was included on the program, when Donald Berblinger, who has been a soprano member of St. Augustine's choir, sang "Lad-die," "In a Bright Sunny Garden," "Like a Dewdrop Pure and Clear," and "The Dove of Peace." His mother, Mrs. Willis Berblinger, played his accompaniments.

Concludes Program

The program was concluded with Eulalia Barker giving a dramatic recitation of "The Death Disc," and then, in lighter vein, "Pa Never Gets a Story Straight." Mrs. Harry L. Barker, social chairman of the Woman's Catholic club, was her daughter's accompanist.

Mrs. Charles Broad, program chairman for the club, assisted Mrs. Flood in arranging Friday's entertainment.

The program over, special announcements followed, notice of which appears elsewhere in this issue. Tea then was served at the table with its candles and flowers carrying out the orange autumn hues.

Last Monday Mrs. Arthur B. Adair, 320 Melrose avenue, was hostess to her Kenilworth sewing club.
