

Saturday Plays for Children Sponsored by Woman's Club

Captives of Moon First Play for Children Nov. 19

By L. H. S.

The committee on children's plays met with Mrs. Arthur J. Dixon at the Wilmette Woman's club last Friday for a very enthusiastic session. It was discovered that unusual progress has been made, for already the major portion of the series tickets had been sold. This is the more encouraging for the ways and means committee. When it cast about for entertainment features for this club year, it decided to give plays for children instead of the customary evening dramatic productions, and wondered if the departure would meet with success. Of that its members now rest assured, for the response to the plan shows that there exists a great need for just such a project.

On November 19, at 10 o'clock, the first of these plays will be presented at the club house. The Jack and Jill players are showing "Captives of the Moon," a title and a cast of romantic characters to appeal to every childish heart. Seventh and eighth graders are particularly interested, as they are making the posters which are on display. Miss Frances Donnelly, the art director, has planned a fresh set of posters for each production. There is competition among the youngsters for originality of design and excellence of drawing.

For tickets call Mrs. Henry Brandt, chairman of the committee in charge of the production, or her assistants—Mrs. J. T. Booz, vice-chairman; Mrs. Arthur Hall, advertising manager; Mrs. A. V. Gruhn, Mrs. W. S. Hedges, Mrs. W. F. Horsting, Mrs. Richard Hosking, Mrs. Clifford Ives, Mrs. J. R. McClure, Mrs. H. E. Ringholm, Mrs. W. A. Richardson, Mrs. Charles E. Ripley, Mrs. Enoch Steen.

Bridge-Tea Monday to Aid Wellesley Scholarship Fund

By JEAN TEN BROECK

A bridge tea for the benefit of its scholarship fund will be given by the entire Chicago Wellesley club Monday afternoon, November 14, at 2 o'clock, at the Belden-Stratford hotel in Chicago. Each year the club sends one girl to Wellesley college, but this year, because of the stress of the times, it has contributed $150 toward defraying the expense of a second student at Wellesley. To raise this money is the purpose of the event next week. A prize will be given at each table.

The north shore is represented in the general committee for tickets, which is headed by Miss Emily Gochst of Chicago. Miss Betty Mulford of Wilmette, Mrs. Ralph Brown, Mrs. Albert Pott, Mrs. Horton Conrad, of Winnetka, Mrs. Alfred H. Taylor of Glencoe, and Miss Elizabeth Read of Lake Forest are assisting as members of the telephone committee. Mrs. Conrad is also in charge of publicity.

Among those who already have made table reservations are:

Miss Gochst; Mrs. E. D. Scott of Wilmette; Mrs. William Sherman Hay, donating a table, and Mrs. Ralph Brown, Mrs. Albert Pott, and Mrs. Horton Conrad, all of Winnetka; Mrs. Bruce MacLeish and Mrs. Charles Brandriff, of Glencoe; Mrs. Irwin Rew and her two daughters, Ada Catherine and Theresa, who are entertaining at two tables of bridge, and Mrs. Samuel White, of Evanston; Mrs. Willard Jaques and her daughter, Alice, of Chicago, who are having two tables; Miss Elizabeth Read of Lake Forest.

Among other alumnae who have made reservations for the affair are Miss Betty Mulford, Mrs. Alfred Taylor, Mrs. Albert Pott, and Miss Elsie Watkins of Highland Park.

Mrs. Horton Conrad (Betty Knodel) is having as guests at her table Mrs. Scott Dow (Louise Badgerow); Mrs. Stuyvesant Butler (Paisley Ball), and Mrs. John Dern (Jean MacLeish).

Dancing and Cards at Woman's Club Saturday

A social evening for members of the Woman's club and their husbands and friends is planned for Saturday, November 12. Beginning at 8 o'clock there will be dancing, and cards, the diversions which those attending may choose. The host and hostess committee is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Carbon P. Dubbs, while members of it are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robb Harper, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Worthen.

Guests at Party

Bobby and Teddy Butz, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Butz of Winnetka, had their third birthday party recently and invited fourteen friends to a costume party to celebrate the occasion. Their guests were their sister, Alice Emily, and Tommy and Jimmy Cooke, Mickie Nadler, Diane and Rudy Huszagh, and Billy Bartholomay of Winnetka; Amelie Wilmot and Mary Sutter of Evanston; Angela VanTatten of Wilmette; and Billy and Dicky Bickle of Chicago.
