

Marion Ortseifen on Gala Night Program

Miss Marion Ortseifen of Kenilworth, president of the Junior auxiliary of the Woman's Catholic club of Wilmette, gave readings as part of the program presented at the Gala night sponsored by the Junior auxiliaries of the Tenth district, Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, in honor of Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, general federation president, last Friday night.

Mrs. Poole, the speaker of the evening, took as the general topic of her lecture, "The World of Today," and Miss Ortseifen chose her selections and comments to conform and apply to Mrs. Poole's subject. She introduced her subject by a quotation from Anatole France: "Society is vain and frivolous. Granted. Nevertheless it is no bad school for politicians, indeed we may well regret that it is so little frequented by a present day statesman."

"What constitutes society? Woman; she is its sovereign arbitress, it exists by her and for her exclusively." Miss Ortseifen followed this excerpt from Katherine Dayton's article, "January Slush," in the Saturday Evening Post, and concluded with the more serious "America for Me" by Henry Van Dyke.

The meeting was held at the Rogers Park Woman's club, with Mrs. Poole, Mrs. William F. Farrell, state president, and Mrs. Ivor Jeffreys of Glencoe, district chairman, as guests of the evening, and Mrs. Clement Cox, chairman of the district Junior auxiliaries, conducting the meeting.

Part of the program was a group of songs by the Glee club of the Park Ridge School for Girls, transportation for whom was provided by the Catholic Club juniors.

Among the presidents of the north shore auxiliaries which were among the sponsors, were Miss Mary Mack, president of the Wilmette Woman's club Junior auxiliary; Mrs. Fred Duncombe, of the Winnetka Woman's club Junior auxiliary, and Miss Ortseifen, who acted as ushers.

St. Francis P. T. A. News

Mothers of sixth grade pupils of the St. Francis school enjoyed a pleasant afternoon January 30 at the home of Mrs. Grace McCarthy, 518 Forest avenue. Mrs. McCarthy and her assisting hostesses, Mrs. Edwin Georger, Mrs. Philip Newman, Mrs. W. Birmingham and Mrs. James Ford, received a large number of guests.

Three sixth grade pupils contributed much to the entertainment. Jane Ethel Newman gave a recitation and Helen McCarthy and Jane Redlin played piano solos.

Mrs. C. L. Belding of Austin sang two solos, "The Brown Bird" and "Dawn." Mrs. John J. Tracey was the accompanist.

Miss Jane Gandia, assistant principal of the Leander Stone school in Chicago, took her audience back to the time of Rousseau for the beginning of her talk on "Modern Education," naming him as the originator of the progressive idea of education and the less formal way of conducting classes. Dr. Judd and Dr. Dewey, educators of the present era, she stated, sponsored the idea of "socialized recitation" and the "project" system now in vogue. The advantage of small class groups is now being considered as the next most important step in the improvement of the present school system, the speaker asserted.

Mrs. James Tarleton, Mrs. Mabel Markham, Mrs. M. C. Rogers poured at the tea, the table being arranged in a setting of spring flowers.
