

Interest Groups Hold Important Session Tonight

By W. C. Reinhold

The most important meeting of the "Five Interest Groups," which have been in session on Thursday evenings in the Community House of the Wilmette Parish Methodist church will be held tonight (Thursday). The attendance last Thursday evening was the largest on record, and it is anticipated that the crowd will be even larger tonight.

Whether or not you are an admirer of Sinclair Lewis, it must be admitted that he has some good points—good enough to win international recognition. For that reason you can expect to meet a great many people who will attend the meeting of Group II, to hear Miss Anne L. Whitmack review "Ann Vickers," which has been, and is now one of the best sellers. This review is one of a series in the course on "Contemporary Literature and Its Meaning for Today."

Discusses Newspaper

Group IV, which is studying the report of the commission appointed by former President Hoover, on "Recent Social Trends," will hear Walter Fremont, a newspaper man of wide experience, discuss the chapter of the report on "Means of Communication." In his address he will take up the various "means" of communication which have to a large extent made a "neighborhood" of the world, and which are destined to upset the fading cause of narrow nationalism, but he will probably set forth the importance of the modern newspaper as one of the inescapable and effective means of transforming "provincialism" into "internationalism." Therefore, if you want to feel that you are at least "abreast with the times," come out tonight and hear Mr. Fremont!

Group I, ought to have a large attendance of both men and women. Prof. Frank M. McKibben, of Northwestern university, who has been conducting the sessions of this group, and has been taking up "The Use of the Bible in the Modern Home and School," will have something to say tonight that will interest all who have passed the voting age. His topic will be: "Adult Uses of the Bible."

Group III who will continue to "Think It Through With Young People" will hear an address by the Rev. Randall B. Hamrick on "Has Tomorrow a Challenge?"

The choir, under the direction of Miss Marie Briel, constitutes Group V. It will hold its regular rehearsal.

As usual, the evening will open at 6:30 o'clock, with a cafeteria dinner, which will be followed by a service of worship at 7:30, led by Dr. Oscar Thomas Olson. The various groups will meet at 8 o'clock and will continue in session for just one hour.

CAGE TOURNAMENT

Boys who are members of the night gymnasium class at the Kenilworth Memorial gymnasium are finishing their basketball season this week with a round robin tournament among the five teams into which the class is divided. These teams are the Kenilworth Indians, the Night Hawks, the Ghosts, the Spiders and the Unknowns. Boys seventeen years old and older have been attending the night gymnasium class.

Mrs. John Law Wilds and daughter, Nancy, 244 Oxford road, left Kenilworth Thursday of last week for Darlington, S. C., where they will visit Mrs. Wilds' mother. Mr. Wilds and the younger daughter, Charlotte, are leaving Friday. They all will return April 14.

HOME DURING VACATION

Thomas L. Grisamore, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Grisamore, 411 Lake avenue, has completed two years of his medical course at the University of Chicago, and will resume his studies of his junior year at Rush Medical college (where the junior course continues from the University of Chicago) after the spring vacation, which he is spending at his home.

TO VISIT IN NEW YORK

Miss Elizabeth Balhatchet, 725 Tenth street, a student at Wellesley college, has decided not to come home during her spring vacation but instead will spend part of it with Miss Marie Pierce of New York City, formerly of North Evanston, and the remainder of the time in Poughkeepsie with Miss Ann Linn, who is attending Vassar.

Mrs. William G. Bayliss and daughter, Betty, 610 Central avenue, left Monday on a two weeks' motor trip, stopping at Columbus, Ohio and Morgantown, Va., where they will visit relatives and friends. Betty will attend the Kappa Kappa Gamma initiation.

INVITE TO LECTURE

Masons and their gentlemen friends in all the village in New Trier township are being invited by Winnetka Lodge 1078, A. F. and A. M., to attend a free lecture and buffet supper at the Winnetka Masonic temple, 708 Elm street, Tuesday evening, April 4, at 8 o'clock. G. C. Dickens, noted authority on Alaska, will present an illustrated talk concerning that fascinating country.
