Central-Laurel P. T. A.

At the April meeting of the Central-Laurel P. T. A., Dr. Carlisle Hedger of the Elizabeth McCormick Foundation talked on "The New Era of Child Education." She explained that she meant not the new era of depression and economics, but a new era of consciousness interpreted as an "awareness of the meaning of our acts." We are not conscious at birth, she pointed out, for consciousness is developed by human contacts. This fact was illustrated by specific examples.

Dr. Hedger told of the three ways of evading consciousness — motor, sensory, psychologic. She asked: "Why do some brainy people read detective stories? Why do we go to the movies?" and explained: "We are evading consciousness. We do not want to face all the realities of life. We want to get away from our own thoughts. And into this life of struggle, of realities, we bring children. We have put them into an 'era of pressure' so must arise to it and help them develop and advance in all ways possible."

Following this instructive talk there was a program by the pupils of Miss Johansen's room entitled "The Secret Garden."

Musical numbers and poems were presented between scenes of the play. The usual tea was not served since the cooking room was used for election purposes that day.

Mrs. Quinlan and Mrs. Snorri attended the state convention at Danville April 19, 20 and 21.

Roger Crowe, 234 Raleigh road, Kenilworth, is home from Lake Forest academy with a cold.

Kenilworth Opens Infant Welfare's Annual Campaign

The Infant Welfare Society of Chicago gave a publicity luncheon at the Woman's Athletic club Wednesday, April 26. This luncheon is held each year for the women of the Chicago press who contribute to keep the needs and the activities of the organization in the public eye. The two members of the Kenilworth Infant Welfare society who represented their center this year were Mrs. Russell Matthias, president, and Eleanor Lippincott, publicity chairman.

In conjunction with Baby Week, which starts the first of May, the Kenilworth Infant Welfare society, a branch of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago, is starting its annual drive. The Kenilworth center is the smallest center of all the branches of the organization, so that it is necessary for its members to exert all their effort to make a worthwhile success of anything they undertake.

Their two largest undertakings of the year are the benefit bridge party and fashion show, which took place on April 5 at the Kenilworth club, and the annual drive. In the fall several smaller events are usually given. Last fall these included a football tea dance and a lingerie exhibit.

The proceeds from the drive constitute the greatest part of the sum which this center is required to raise to maintain the Seward Park settlement station. The quota is $2,170 for one year. Consequently, it keeps the thirty-five members of Kenilworth's Infant Welfare center working diligently to reach this goal.

THE TRUTH ABOUT DRY CLEANING PRICES

DRY cleaning prices have been footballed around to such an extent that many persons are absolutely confused, and haven't the least idea what a fair price for good cleaning should be.

AND yet there is such a thing as a fair price. A price that is low enough to bring good cleaning within the reach of everyone, and high enough to enable the cleaner to stay in business and pay a decent living wage to his employees.

DURING all of the price wars, we have consistently refused to lower our price down into the sweat shop class, and our large volume of business proves that our stand for righteousness is approved by the average individual who is willing to pay a price that is fair to all concerned.
