Kappa Alpha Thetas Will Have Luncheon May 31

Miss Helen Sargent, 1711 Hinman avenue, Evanston, will open her home for a luncheon and meeting of the Evanston Alumna chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta on Wednesday, May 31, at 1 o'clock.

Among the Northwestern Theta seniors who are to be guests of honor are Mary Forrest of Winnetka and Betty Jane Keck of Wilmette.

Miss Sargent is assisted by a large committee headed by Mrs. Marcus H. Hobart and Mrs. Clyde T. Marshall of Evanston and Mrs. Richard S. Carr of Highland Park.

A talk on antiques will be given by Mrs. David Holmes, a Northwestern Theta alumna, who lives in Janesville, Wis.

Preceding the luncheon will be an important business meeting of Tau association of Kappa Alpha Theta at 12 o'clock at Miss Sargent's home. This will include a report of the nominating committee and the election of officers.

Kenilworth Girls Enjoy Frolic at Lake Geneva

Sixteen Kenilworth girls spent last week-end at Lake Geneva, going there Friday evening and returning on Sunday. They were accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Macauley, Girl Scout captain in Kenilworth, and Mrs. Martin Wolf.

Girls who made the trip were Ruth Mervis, Betty Schrei, Charlene Driver, Jean Strickland, Phyllis Trump, Bunny Dahm, Janet Colvin, Marjorie Midgley, Jean Dickerson, Dorothy Henderson, Phyllis Wheelock, Mary Wolf, Virginia Sowers, Sue Fisher, Ruth Sprenger and Marjorie Sindling.

The group stayed at the Y. M. C. A. camp. Arrangements to have the girls stay there were made by Mrs. Arthur W. Wakeley.

Included in the program of activities for the week-end trip were swimming, hiking, studying birds and flowers, passing fire building tests and learning how to barbecue chickens.

Kenilworth Home to Be Open for Benefit

Mrs. Walter Cherry, 517 Sheridan road, Kenilworth, will open her home and garden on the lake on Tuesday, June 26, for a musicale and tea al fresco, for the benefit of the Chicago Service Council for Girls, which assists young girls through school so that they may procure positions. Mrs. Onalese White, called a "golden contralto," accompanied by Pauline Peebles at the piano, will give an interesting program. Members of the board will assist in receiving. Young women in the north shore branch of the Visiting Nurses' association will assist with refreshments. Tickets may be procured at the door.

Percy B. Eckhart, 206 Cumberland road, left Kenilworth Tuesday on a business trip to Baltimore, Md. Mr. and Mrs. Eckhart are leaving by motor June 6, for Poughkeepsie to see their daughter, Elizabeth, who is a sophomore at Vassar, and who will be in the Daisy Chain march.

Katharine Dudley, 414 Warwick road, Kenilworth, entertained thirty guests at a kitchen shower and tea Tuesday in honor of Elizabeth Nelligar, whose engagement was recently announced. Most of the guests were friends of the bride-to-be.

Mrs. Walter Cherry, 517 Sheridan road, Kenilworth, entertained twelve guests at luncheon Tuesday.

Spring Exhibit of Art League at Community House

By Jean Fox

That the North Shore Art league numbers among its followers individuals with definite talent, particular abilities in types of painting and sculpture, becomes more and more evident as the exhibits by member artists continue to meet high standards. Visitors find much to admire and praise both among the professionals and the members pursuing their art as a hobby.

Tuesday evening the league opened its annual spring showing of painting and sculpture in the art league studio in Community House, at the same time holding its annual dinner in the Frederick Tyrell room. The exhibit will be open to the public for a period of weeks.

Allen Philbrick, Bess Divine Jewell, and Frank Peyraud of course have their popular landscapes and still life studies upon the walls.

Burnhams Are Represented

The Burnhams, mother and daughter, are also represented. The trilliums exhibited by Carol Lou have appeared in other north shore shows, and alone are worth a trip to Community House.

How different this still life is when compared with the freely drawn flower study by Mrs. Patten or the mystical interpretation of dancing women by Alice May Jackson! The contrast illustrates that both objective work, and the more imaginative are as current today as in any period; and that there will always be realists and always mystics, regardless of the dominant tendencies of the age.

For the modern sense of roundness, form, depth and firm substance, the still life of vegetables by Marguerite Walker is outstanding. The same trick of high-lights as that affected by Ivan Allbright, to secure an alive sensation, is seen here.

Portraits of Two Sisters

Edna M. S. Johansen is the artist of portraits of two sisters (apparently), painted on a single canvas, and of a landscape with lake and water lilies. Good technique and fine feeling appear consistently in almost everything she enters in exhibits. Her production must be large, too, for she always has something new.

Figures, heads, reliefs and fountain pieces in the sculpture group lend variety to the collection. Artists include: Mrs. Julie Mann, Miss Elvin, Marcelle Vennema, Sybell Vennema, Mrs. Leavy, James Cady Ewell and Mrs. Patten.

Among those showing paintings are: Hazel C. Ewell, E. B. Millard, Helen A. Hare, Bertha B. Alling, E. M. S. Johansen, Crosby Buck, Frank Peyraud, Marguerite Taylor, B. Huston Biddle, Sybell Vennema, Grace P. Brion, D. R. Henderson, Denison B. Hull, Anita Willets Burnham, Carol Lou Burnham, Margaret Kerfoot, Elizabeth B. Maher, Mrs. Patten, Flo Work, H. R. Risk, Helene Chase Johnson, H. Peterson, B. Davis, Irma Keehn, Grace Haskins, Marguerite Walker, J. B. Hannah, Alice May Jackson, U. K. Shippen, L. P. Gray, Allen Philbrick, Elizabeth Peyraud, Bess Divine Jewell, and Maria K. Gallagher.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Carpenter and their young son, Bobby, 239 Essex road, are leaving Kenilworth June 4, to motor to Washington to see their daughter, Sue, graduate from the Madeira school, after which they will go to their summer home at Blue Mount, Va. Their other two sons, Frank and Billy, will stay in Kenilworth until school closes.
