

Subscribers Eager to Enjoy Next Season's Artist-Recital Series

Brilliant Array of Stars on Winnetka Music Club Programs Enthuses Patrons

Announcement of the superlative program arranged for the tenth anniversary year of the Artist-Recital series sponsored by the Winnetka Music club was made last week. With Frederick Yagel, Bartlett, Robertson, Nathan Milstein, Elisabeth Rethberg, and, as a finale, Lawrence Tibbett, revealed as the musician personnel for the north shore this coming season, immediately subscriptions for course tickets came in, making apparent, even at this early day, the large demand there will be for tickets. Anticipating that by fall over-subscription is certain, the Artist-Recital committee, whose chairman is Mrs. Roland D. Whitman of Winnetka, urges its prospective patrons to hasten their applications, making them at once, or at least during these next few weeks.

Provide Two Payments

Mrs. Bessie M. Grant at the State Bank of Winnetka is in charge of subscriptions, which may be paid half now, the remainder this autumn.

Frederick Yagel is that young tenor, one of the American artists rapidly pushing to the fore on the Metropolitan Opera stage. High praise has gone to him both at Ravinia and in Chicago. His singing opens the series.

British two-piano favorites are Bartlett and Robertson, to be heard in the second concert. "They play," the Chicago Daily News has said, "with the skill of one and the imagination of two." Two of England's most successful pianists are Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson, who after winning enviable success individually, are now achieving triumphs together.

Proclaimed A Genius

The playing of Nathan Milstein, the sensational young Russian violinist, has impelled such music critics as Glen Dillard Gunn and Eugene Stinson to proclaim him a genius. The former has declared of his musicianship, "The result is uncanny. He seems to be performing magic. Genius is the word which he obliges the critic to use, however reluctantly." The latter remarked after hearing him twice, "It is genius." Milstein will be the third artist presented.

On Rethberg's head rests the "triple crown of musician, poet, actress. The conquest of her audiences has been complete." Heralded as "the perfect singer," her renown is world-wide. Her American season is followed annually by one in Europe. In concert and in opera she graces the same supreme plane. Elisabeth Rethberg has a repertoire of 106 grand operas and 1,000 songs in their original languages. Her program is the fourth of the series.

Leads American Singers

The year will end with Lawrence Tibbett's singing. Of him it is said, "Extraordinary and supremely developed gifts rank Lawrence Tibbett as the greatest male singer born to America. Neither this, nor any other day has given the international world a more consummate artist. Versatility, individuality, and originality add their lustre to his supremacy in three different fields, concert-opera-movied pictures."

Artists so brilliant as these are offered during this high-light year in great part because of the interest in the Artist-Recital series and the artists it presents, which Mrs. Whitman was able to kindle in the manager of the bureau himself when she personally interviewed him in New York last spring, and again a little later.

Marshall Dudley Home From 5 Months' Cruise

Marshall Dudley, 414 Warwick road, Kenilworth, returned last week from a most interesting cruise of five months' duration. He and nine other university students planned to take a trip around the world on the Floating university, which was given up because there was not a sufficient student registration. They boarded the James Borning, their itinerary being Madeira, Casa Blanca, Cadiz, Gibraltar, Malaga, Villa Franche, Nice, Monte Carlo, Naples (Pompeii), Algiers, Carthage, Tunis, Beirut, Syria, Haifa, Palestine, Jerusalem, over to Cairo, Egypt, down the Afghan coast to Port Sudan, then Bombay, from there to Delhi Agra to Columbo, then to Penang, Singapore, China, Java, Bali, back to Singapore, on to Hong Kong, to Canton, back to Hong Kong, to Shanghai, from there to Kobe, Japan, to Kiyoto, to Tokio, where they stayed at the Imperial hotel which is a very modern one. Japan was voted their favorite country. Bali, which had only one European hotel, was considered most unique.

Their amusements aboard ship were moving pictures, sports, dancing, swimming, and lectures given on places that they were about to see.

After leaving Japan, they sailed across the Pacific to Honolulu, then to Frisco, to Los Angeles, down to Cristobal, Panama, to Havana, and on to New York. They were on the following boats, the North German Lloyd, Columbus, S. S. Strathaird, Ranchi, OpTennort, Melchior, Treub, Carthage, President Coolidge and President Lincoln. No two young men were from the same university. Marshall is a student at Brown university, Providence, R. I.

Mission Hills Holds "Big Parade" Tourney

The Mission Hills Country club's annual golf tournament "Big Parade," which was held at the club last Saturday was attended by about 150 members and their guests. Raymond M. Lundstrom of Evanston won first low gross with a 76. Tied with Lundstrom at 76 was Walter Crowdus, former Olympia Fields champion. Other low scorers were Russ Chandler, 79, C. H. Hurtt, 80, A. H. Barry, 80.

Following Crowdus for low net awards were Henry Brainard, 80-8-72, and L. E. Webster, 87-15-72. The call foursome, wherein the golfers call their shots before starting, went to O. W. Hall, Harvey East, T. D. Scarff, and J. G. Grover, who decided on 386 and hit that mark for the foursome total.

Fred Schultz and Ed Purnell tied at 79-8-71 for the forenoon net awards.

Changing Social Order N. C. E. Course of Study

The regular summer session of the National College of Education opened this week and will continue for six weeks, closing August 1. Registration last Friday and Saturday indicated a highly satisfactory enrollment, with representatives from twenty-seven states and two foreign countries. The location of Evanston, combining proximity to the Century of Progress with the advantages of a residential suburb has been influential in bringing to the session many students interested in visiting the Fair as well as securing college credit. The first of the two week sessions, especially planned for this purpose, proved popular and a number of the students have re-enrolled for the longer session.

The faculty for the summer includes many members of the regular staff, and one of the most timely of the courses listed is that on "Education and the Changing Social Order" to be given by President Edna Dean Baker. The Children's school, with nursery school, kindergarten and elementary grades, will be open until July 21, given the students an opportunity for observation and discussion of methods and materials.

Bob and Glenn, sons of the Walter Andersens, 127 Robsart road, Kenilworth, are leaving Saturday for Camp Kooch-I-Ching at Ranier, Minn. Mrs. Andersen, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Martin of Duluth, Minn., will drive the boys up to camp returning to Two Harbors, Minn., where she will spend the summer.

Mrs. Sanford S. Holden, 527 Warwick road, Kenilworth, will entertain at luncheon Friday in honor of Mrs. C. W. Ames of Rochester, N. Y., who is visiting her sister and family, the Edwin Hedricks of 204 Melrose avenue, Kenilworth.

Howard Carlson, 208 Oxford road, Kenilworth, left Thursday by boat for Camp Owakonze, where he will spend the summer.

Gaffney Attends Session to Study "Prep" Curricula

Supt. M. P. Gaffney of New Trier High school left Wednesday of this week to attend the meeting of the Committee on School and College Relations of the Progressive Education association at Bennington, Vt. Perry Dunlap Smith, headmaster of the North Shore Country Day school, left Thursday to attend the same meeting.

The committee has as its main objective the revision of the curricula of college preparatory schools to meet the demands of present-day life. In meetings held at Chicago, Cambridge, Mass., New York and Philadelphia in the past two years the committee has obtained the cooperation of a group of colleges which desire to see secondary education freed from the influence of the old-time college entrance requirements.

Both New Trier High school and the North Shore Country Day school are included in a group of college preparatory schools which are cooperating with these colleges in building new courses in history, mathematics, the languages, the arts and the sciences.

Simplicity Keynote of Esther Sprenger's Wedding

The Union Church of Kenilworth was the scene on Saturday evening, June 24, of the marriage of Miss Esther Sprenger, daughter of Mrs. William T. Sprenger of Kenilworth, to Dr. Willard W. McEwen of Evanston. Dr. Herbert L. Willett of Kenilworth read the service at 8:30 o'clock. A reception for seventy-five guests followed at the family residence at 537 Earlston road.

The bride wore a charmingly simple dress of white net made with soft ruffles and on the skirt and sleeves. Her veil was of tulle caught with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley tied with broad white ribbons. Her only attendant, her sister, Marion, wore peach chiffon and carried roses and blue delphinium. Mrs. Sprenger wore a white lace gown with a corsage of orchids. Lorin McEwen of Chicago served his brother as best man.

The table decorations in the dining room were entirely white, while in the house, as in the church, the flowers were a mixture of white and pastel colors with green ferns and cybodium palms.

After their wedding trip the young couple will reside in Evanston.

SON BORN TO JEANGERARDS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jeangerard, 1520 Gregory avenue, are the parents of a nine-pound son born Tuesday of last week at the Evanston hospital. The Jeangerards have two other sons, Jack and Ralph.

Mrs. Betty Erickson, Anton Johnson, and the Rev. and Mrs. William Franklin all of Lanse, Pa., left for their home last Monday after a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Erickson's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Erickson, 215 Seventeenth street.

T. S. Lubbach, Jr., of Houston, Texas, who is in the cotton business there, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Miller, 1775 Washington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Toloff of Chicago have taken the N. D. Belnap house at 1422 Asbury avenue, Hubbard Woods, for the summer.
