

JENSEN PLANS PARK PROJECT

Noted Landscape Architect Is Placed in Charge of Improving Kenilworth Tract

The old Mahoney farm on Sheridan road at the south limits of Kenilworth, which was willed to the Village of Kenilworth about two years ago by the late Mary Mahoney, soon is to be cleared of buildings and of undesirable trees and shrubbery preparatory to its development as a natural park.

A special Kenilworth Civic Plans committee, with the following personnel, is working on the project: Mrs. A. R. Hodge of the Kenilworth Home and Garden club, Mrs. Rufus Stolp of the Kenilworth Garden club, Mrs. Clyde Ross of the Neighbors of Kenilworth, Mrs. Leon T. Ellis of the Kenilworth Historical society and Supt. E. L. Nygaard of the Joseph Sears school.

Jensen Conducts Project

This committee has engaged Jens Jensen, noted landscape architect and a leading advocate of tree and wild flower conservation, to draw the plans for the park. In general, it is the intention of the committee to transform the old farm into a bird sanctuary and a wild flower preserve. It is also pointed out that the development of the tract will provide a buffer between the "No Man's Land" commercial area and the residential section of Kenilworth. This, the sponsors of the project believe, will enhance the value of Kenilworth property in the vicinity.

Clear Land This Fall

The plan is to develop the area as rapidly as funds and materials are supplied by the various Kenilworth organizations, or by individual citizens, supplementing such work on the project as the Village board may have done from time to time. The opportunity to obtain labor free from the ranks of the unemployed, through the Work Relief division of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, has made it possible to clear the land this fall, and in the spring the first steps will be taken to recapture on the old Mahoney homestead some of the native loveliness in flower, tree and shrub which once abounded in this vicinity.

Community Enterprise

The great value of the project, according to its sponsors, lies in the fact that it provides an opportunity for every resident of Kenilworth to have a part in its development and also in the fact that the natural park will serve as an outdoor classroom for nature studies by the school children and the garden clubs as well.

Arrest Chicagoan Here on Abandonment Charge

Salvador Badoli, a former resident of Wilmette but now domiciled somewhere in Chicago, was arrested Sunday of last week on a complaint signed by his wife, Daisy, 1617 Fargo avenue, Chicago, charging assault and battery. Sergeant Herman Vance and Officer Philip Schneider found Badoli at the home of a sister, at 526 Sixth street. When Sergeant Vance went to the front door, Badoli made a quick exit through a rear window, only to fall into the waiting arms of Officer Schneider. Taken before Police Magistrate John Peters, the prisoner was discharged on the assault and battery charge, but was immediately rearrested on a Chicago warrant charging non-support and child abandonment. He was turned over to Chicago officers.

Coal Dealers Turn to Golf, Fishing Code for a Spell

A party of thirteen coal dealers from Wilmette, Winnetka and Evanston returned Monday morning from a golf and fishing trip to the Four-Seasons club near Marinette, Wis.

Included in the group were Charles F. Brandt, 2931 Lake avenue, Wilmette, of the Evanston Coal and Material company, who organized the party; Joseph J. Kuttan and Frank Kuttan of Kuttan Brothers, Wilmette; John F. Hoffmann, Jr., of Hoffmann Brothers, Wilmette; Earl Weinstock of the Winnetka Coal and Lumber company; George Martin of the E. C. Weissenberg Coal company, Winnetka; Robert Steel of the Mercer Lumber companies; Elmer Nilles of the Central Coal and Material company, Evanston; William Roland of the Consumers company; D. E. McMillan of the D. E. McMillan Coal company, Evanston; John Phillips of the Marquette Coal and Mining company, Evanston; Earl Craig of the Skokie Oil and Coal company, Niles Center, and Ralph Edinger of the Evanston Cash Coal company.

The party left on the Iron and Copper Country express of the Chicago and North Western railway last Thursday. Victor Metzger of Wilmette, assistant freight claim agent of the North Western railway, accompanied the group.

Barber Pole Broker's Story of Deal Is Flop

George Enggram, 1614 W. Fifteenth street, Chicago, who was arrested recently charged with having stolen a barber pole from in front of the barber shop of E. Borre, 815 Ridge avenue, was held to the grand jury Monday by Police Magistrate John Peters. The pole, which was found adorning the front of a Chicago barber shop, was restored to Mr. Borre. Enggram stated that he was a dealer in barber supplies, and that a customer had asked him for a certain kind of pole, (that certain kind being exactly the pilfered pole). As luck would have it, Enggram said, it was only a week or so thereafter that a stranger approached him desiring to sell exactly that same type of barber pole. So, having a purchaser already in the bag, he just turned an honest dollar by doing a little brokering. But Magistrate Peters was not impressed, so Enggram is at present a guest at the county jail.

Painters Prove Poor Cooks—So Roast Burns

Painters who were working in a vacant house at 1062 Linden avenue last Sunday have decided to take some lessons in cooking. A roast which they had placed in a gas stove burned and the Wilmette Fire department was called. Fire Chief Walter Zibbe reports that no damage resulted—except to the roast and the painters' dreams of a good Sunday dinner. The Wilmette firemen made one other run in the past week. On Wednesday afternoon, August 16, at 2:30 o'clock they were called to 1927 Washington avenue to extinguish a prairie fire.

BAHA'I LECTURE

"Universal Education" is the subject of the talk to be given by Dr. E. Lenore Morris of Racine, Wis., Sunday afternoon, August 27, at 3:30 o'clock in Foundation hall, Baha'i House of Worship, Linden avenue and Sheridan road, Wilmette.

PUSH CHURCH WORK

Presbyterians Expect to Utilize New Edifice at Ninth Street and Greenleaf
Avenue in September

Activity is noticed at the new Presbyterian church building at Ninth street and Greenleaf avenue. The men of the church have greatly improved the appearance of the grounds, the landscaping has been under competent leadership and for the last few Saturdays the men have been trying their hands at painting with very satisfactory results.

The floor of the assembly room has been laid, the electrical and plumbing work is now under way and the church has great reason to rejoice in these strenuous days that the above work has been paid for or the money is in the bank for that purpose as soon as the work is completed.

A tentative date for the entrance and occupancy of the new church has been set for Sunday, September 17, and the work is being pressed with that end in view.

Since the burning of the former church building the services have been held in the Woman's club building.

The pastor of the church is the Rev. James T. Veneklasen.

Local Legionnaires Go to Rockford This Week

There will be an appreciable exodus from Wilmette Saturday when members of the two posts of the American Legion and their auxiliaries move upon Rockford for the annual state convention which convenes Saturday, August 26, and closes Tuesday, August 29. The Evanston-Wilmette Drum corps will go on Monday. Wilmette Post No. 46 will be represented officially by David C. Leach and D. J. L. Walther, delegates, while the delegate representing Peter J. Huerter Post No. 669 is Michael Clifford of Glencoe.

MOVE HERE FROM DETROIT

Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Hillis and three children, Susan, Nancy and Scott, have recently moved here from Birmingham, Mich., a suburb of Detroit, and have taken the house formerly occupied by the James Badger family at 512 Central avenue. The Hillises were former residents of Wilmette and lived in the thirteen hundred block on Chestnut street.

An Apartment Home

The season for selecting a new home has arrived with a greater choice of apartments than ever before.

Every consideration—location, size, transportation, convenience to shopping centers—may be obtained with a minimum of effort through a Want Ad in WILMETTE LIFE.
