Keeler Attends Code Conference in Washington

Bradford L. Keeler, general manager of Village Cleaners, returned Saturday from Washington, D.C., where he was in conference with officials of the NRA administration office. Mr. Keeler is secretary of the Illinois Association of Cleaners and Dyers, and represented his organization in the negotiations. In discussing the provisions of the code submitted by his industry, Mr. Keeler made the following statement:

Provide Standards

"Minimum standards of quality and service have been provided for in the code of the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners, submitted to the National Recovery administration. The clause was included at the request of Dr. Pauline Beery Mack, representing the American Home Economics association."

"President J. R. Ridley has appointed a committee to draft a provision fixing responsibility for fire and theft of customers' garments, and providing for a Board of Arbitration to decide unsettled customers' claims. Dr. Ruth O'Brien of the Bureau of Home Economics will represent the consumer on this committee."

Enlist Consumer Help

"The dry cleaning industry is the first to enlist consumer help in drafting its code, and the minimum standard clause is the first provision of this kind that has been adopted by any group."

"The code provides for a maximum 45-hour week and minimum wages graduated according to population in four geographical divisions. The new schedules range from 33 cents per hour down to 20 cents per hour. This represents an approximate 20 percent increase in pay rolls."

"The code also provides for the establishment of a Recovery Executive committee to administer and enforce its provisions. One of its powers is defined as the 'authority to determine, publish and enforce fair minimum prices.' The sentiment of the Code committee was unanimously in favor of this price fixing clause."

CARS COLLIDE

Thursday of last week a serious automobile accident occurred at Ninth street and Elmwood avenue when a car driven by Mrs. F. M. Hayson, 241 Laurel avenue, collided with a car driven by James Psalidas, whose address is given as the Cottage, No Man's Land. Five women were riding in the Hayson car. The Psalidas car was completely wrecked, the impact turning it over three times. None of the occupants of the cars was injured.

Mrs. Walter Doering, 1335 Chestnut avenue, is returning today (Thursday) from St. Louis where she went to visit Mr. Doering who is in business there. Their daughter, Betsy, is returning Sunday, August 27, from Hackensack, Minn., where she has been attending Camp Holiday.

Mrs. Ross E. Cullings of Philadelphia, arrived Sunday for a visit with the Albert A. McKeighan family, 1025 Greenleaf avenue. She will also visit relatives in Wisconsin after viewing A Century of Progress. Mr. Cullings is a brother of Mrs. McKeighan.

Howard Hindley, 1035 Lake avenue, returned Tuesday after a two weeks' outing at Lake Sesekinika in northern Ontario. His cousin, Edward Baker of Montreal, Canada arrived Saturday to spend two weeks with the Hindleys.
