

Sacred Heart School Adds Primary Dept. for Boys

The Day School for pupils of the north shore conducted by the Religious of the Sacred Heart at Lake Forest, will re-open September 20, the day after the boarding pupils arrive.

The Boarding school has been conducted at the same location for twenty-nine years and its reputation is known all over the United States. Although the Day school has been in existence but three years it is rapidly establishing for itself an enviable record, the attendance jumping by leaps and bounds each year. This year, for the first time, little boys will be admitted to the primary department. Classes from the first grade on through the high school years are in charge of the Religious and special subjects are taught by lay teachers. The school is officially recognized by the State Department of Public Instruction; it is accredited by the University of Illinois, and is a member of the North Central association of Colleges and Secondary schools.

A station of the North Shore line is on the grounds of the school itself, insuring the safe arrival of even the smallest child. A balanced hot dinner is served at noon at no extra cost to the pupil.
