GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Kenilworth Troops

Troop 1

On Wednesday, December 13, the Girl Scouts of Troop 1, Kenilworth, finished the candlesticks which we started at our last meeting. Some of us had already finished them, so we studied our tests. This year (as we did last year) we are filling stockings for girls at the Chicago Home for Convalescent Women and Children. —Phyllis Wheelock, scribe.

Troop 3

Girl Scouts of Troop 3, Kenilworth, continued their Christmas preparations at their regular meeting Monday, December 11, making interesting scrapbooks to be sent to a children's hospital. The girls also worked on their candleholders. —Peggy Marsh, scribe.

Troop 2

At the recent meeting of Troop 2, Kenilworth, the girls who had not completed the Christmas presents for their mothers finished the gifts. Then we practiced our color ceremony for the party for our mothers and we talked over what each person would bring for the party. —Nancy Claar, scribe.

Enjoy Scavenger Hunt Over Slippery Pavement

Troop 1, Wilmette, had a "First Class" scavenger hunt last Thursday night for the regular meeting. The hunt was the carrying out of the plans of one patrol, the details being worked out by Jane Moore and Frances Haskin. The very slippery and rainy weather added much to the fun as the scouts received code messages by flashlight, found the height of the flag-pole at the Village hall, searched for a ten-ounce bottle, did some service to the community, and fulfilled many other of the First Class requirements. In spite of the fact that many falls were taken, the girls returned to the Scout room at the Methodist church in good condition and managed to enjoy hot cocoa and sandwiches and fudge which were awaiting them. Troop 1 is particularly interested in "First Class" work and is open only to high school and college girls.

OFFER TRAINING COURSE

A Girl Scout Leaders' Training course and a course for Brownie leaders will be arranged after the holidays. All women in the community who are interested in volunteer service of this kind or who would like to learn a bit about the work of these groups are urged to watch the WILMETTE LIFE for the exact dates. It is hoped that many will take advantage of these courses. There will be no tuition charge.

Louise Cowan, Glencoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Cowan, 234 Maplehill road, is leaving Saturday to visit friends in the East during the holidays. She returns home on January 3.

Offers Girl Scouts Fine Camping Site

Members of the Wilmette council of the Girl Scouts are making plans for the scouts to have places to go for overnight and week-end hikes to locations near the Chicago area.

J. D. Cox of Wilmette, who has a farm house not far off Route 58, one and one-half miles from Elgin, has offered it for use by the girls and their chaperons. The drinking water has been tested and found pure. There is plenty of chopped wood for fire and there is everything that would be necessary for comfort, it is announced. The place is large enough to accommodate a whole troop at a time.

Plans are being made by some of the troops now to go out and enjoy this winter camping life during the holiday season, if the weather does not get too severe.

Girl Scout Troop Has "Christmas Overnight"

Troop 4, Wilmette, had its Christmas party in the form of a "Christmas Overnight." After supper the scouts went out in search of a Christmas tree, took it back to their room and decorated it. Then everyone hung up a stocking by the fireplace, and many things (belonging to the Scout room, of course) were placed in the stockings by all members of the troop. Then, too, each scout brought a gift for the tree to be sent to the children of the Illinois Children's home. After everyone was in bed, Miss Humphries read a Christmas story, then "Taps" was sung, and there was no talking until "Reveille" at 7:30 o'clock the next morning. Then much fun was had when each scout opened her stocking and found everything from tin cans to candles. However, each scout also found an orange which she ate for breakfast along with pancakes and sausage.

Troop 10 Will Give Yule Party This Friday Night

Troop 10, Wilmette, is making plans for a Christmas party to be held this Friday evening, December 22. On Monday of this week the first part of the meeting was devoted to making plans for games to be played on that occasion. Then the troop discussed the making of favors and decoration of the tree and various committees arranged to plan the different phases of the party. Troop 11 and a number of the Girl Scout adults of the community will be guests at this party which is to be held in the St. Francis School hall.

Troop 10 members have been cutting out stockings to have filled for children less fortunate than themselves at Christmas time.
