

Lecturer

"Japan's Search for Power and Security" will be the subject of the next lecture in the series given by the North Shore Congregation Israel Forum council to be presented at the temple Center Tuesday evening, January 9, at 8:15 o'clock. George E. Sokolsky (above) will answer the following questions: "What are the motives for Japan's territorial aggressions on the continent of Asia? Is Japan only seeking food and natural resources or national security as well? He will tell the story of Japan's rise from four small islands in the Pacific to the fourth principal power of the world."

Mr. Sokolsky's first lecture tour in the United States, during the past two years, was a phenomenal success. Few lecturers on any subject had as large a number of engagements during the season. But what was more surprising was the large number of reengagements in cities in which Mr. Sokolsky had already addressed audiences.

He has spoken before the Harvard Club of Boston, the Minnesota Education association, the school of journalism at the University of Colorado, before many women's club and numerous men's organizations.

Tickets may be obtained in advance at the temple office (telephone Glencoe 725) or from Mrs. Barnett Faroll, 741 Prospect avenue, (Winn. 609).

Lake Shore Forum Has Symposium January 8

The Lake Shore forum will open its second lecture season Monday evening, January 8, at 8:15 o'clock, with a symposium entitled, "Religion, Atheism, Ethical Culture."

Rabbi Solomon B. Freehof will speak on religion, Dr. H. Percy Ward on atheism, and Dr. Horace J. Bridges on ethical culture. The discussion will cover the question: "Will the ever brighter light of science fade these out, or bring them into a clearer understanding?"

The Lake Shore forum is a non-sectarian organization interested in conducting and maintaining a forum for lectures, discussions, and musical entertainment, for the promotion of public education and the dissemination of progressive ideas, as well as for any other purpose conducive to public enlightenment, or greater community consciousness. The lectures are held at Temple Shalom, 3480 Lake Shore drive, Chicago, and are open to the public.
