Independent Dealers Enjoy Spurt of Cash and Carry Business During Strike

In common with other communities. Wilmette felt the effects of the strike earlier this week of the members of the Pure Milk association, the organization of farmers of the Chicago "milk shed" which supplies at least 90 percent of the milk consumed in Chicago and suburbs. No regular deliveries were made since last weekend until a truce was signed and deliveries resumed on Wednesday, and in consequence many tables were minus the usual supply. Independent dealers enjoyed a tremendous spurt in the cash and carry business, and in some way managed to secure a sufficient quantity, especially of cream, to keep going.

Violence broke out Tuesday when strike sympathizers hijacked the truck of John Dix, 115 Sixteenth street, who operates an independent route. The truck was taken away from him at Prairie avenue and Catalpa place at noon, the machine and contents being drenched with kerosene, and the truck driven to Simpson street and McCormick boulevard, where it was recovered later.

Two officers of the state police force are guarding the depot of the Wisconsin Farmer's Dairy Products store in No Man's Land. Up to this time no disturbance has been reported from that point.

Wednesday morning at about 9 o'clock a train on the Chicago and North Western railroad, composed of five freight cars and one passenger car was switched to a siding in Wilmette and several truckloads of milk consigned to Phil McLaughlin, were left last Sunday by motor for Florida unloaded under protection of Wilarmed guards who accompanied the train. The McLaughlin trucks were escorted by the local police to the village limits at Central Park avenue and Isabella street, on their way to Niles Center. After unloading the McLaughlin consignment the train from Franklin, Pa., where they were departed toward Chicago. Another the guests over the holidays of Mr. car had been unloaded at this point
