

Roosevelt Thanks Wilmette Man for Walking Stick Gift

G. Schoen, cabinet maker and owner of the Art Furniture company, 338 Linden avenue, Wilmette, has received from President Roosevelt a letter of appreciation for a cane which he sent to the President as a Christmas present. The cane was made by Mr. Schoen from twenty-six different pieces of veneer.

The letter thanking Mr. Schoen for the gift was written on White House stationery and was signed by M. A. LeHand, private secretary to the President. It read as follows: "My dear Mr. Schoen:

"Your letter of recent date has been received and the President has noted it with much interest. He requests me to thank you for writing and for the fine walking stick you were good enough to send him. He is pleased to accept this product of your own handiwork, and is indeed grateful for your interest in his welfare."

Mr. Schoen, an admirer of President Roosevelt, has been a cabinet maker for forty-seven years. He started to learn the trade at the age of 14. At one time he was in the employ of Franz Josef, late emperor of Austria-Hungary. Mr. Schoen came to the United States in 1906 and has lived here continuously since then.

Plan Historical Murals for Corridors at New Trier High

Apply for Services of PWAP Artists on Work; Glencoe Ponders Similar Project

Mural paintings depicting interesting historical events of New Trier township and the four New Trier communities—Wilmette, Kenilworth, Winnetka and Glencoe—will grace the corridors of the new addition to New Trier High school if plans now under consideration are carried out.

The high school authorities have made application to the Chicago office of the PWAP to have sketches of historical subjects made by PWAP artists, these sketches to be used as a pattern for subsequent finished works of art. These finished pieces would be completed over a period of years. A representative of the Chicago PWAP office visited the high school this week and made a preliminary survey, and the next step will be the allocation of artists for the job, artists who have been given employment under the PWAP program.

Would Enhance Stage

The plan to use PWAP artists at the high school also involves another project, that of decorating the space between the proscenium arch and the ceiling in the small auditorium with paintings of suitable historical character. This space is about 45 feet long and about 10 feet high at the maximum point. Use of the space for the purpose mentioned is made possible because of the rebuilding of the stage in the auditorium by CWA workers. The stage is being set back several feet to provide space in front of it for the school orchestra.

Glencoe Ponders Project

The Glencoe public schools also have made application to the PWAP office in Chicago to have plans drawn for the proposed decorating of the Central school auditorium by PWAP artists. The proposal is still in the formative stage and the plans have not been formally approved by the Glencoe committee working on the project, but negotiations with the PWAP have reached the point where a representative from the PWAP office was sent to Glencoe this week to make a survey of the situation there.

The present plans, which the school authorities say may be changed, call for the placing of a painting of historical character under each of the large windows in the auditorium, another painting on the asbestos curtain on the stage and several easel paintings in the community room and the foyer. There are four large windows on each side of the auditorium.

It is expected that similar projects may be carried out with reference to the Wilmette, Kenilworth and Winnetka schools.

The PWAP stipulates that work done under its sponsorship must be confined to American historical subjects.

C. T. I. Sponsors Health Program in Chicago Area

"Tuberculosis Robs you—Public health Protects you," is the slogan designated to arouse public interest for the "Early Diagnosis Campaign" of the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute for 1934. The campaign starts in a very few weeks and it is hoped that the revenue obtained from the Christmas seals will be sufficient enough to successfully wage this important campaign.

The purpose of the campaign may be thus stated:

(1) To increase the general public appreciation of the benefits derived from good public health services with emphasis on the official health department's work and its needs.

(2) To cause the public to demand adequate public health service.

(3) To coordinate with the health department, the efforts of all voluntary health agencies, as well as civic organizations, clubs and outstanding individuals to the above ends.

In order to carry out these three points adequately, the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute distributes literature dealing with health facts, sponsors radio talks, talks to club groups, and industrial talks. Lecturers with lantern slides give health talks and demonstrations at schools in and around Chicago.

This work is responsible for the early discovery of tuberculosis and the early recovery. But this cannot be accomplished unless there are adequate funds available. The Chicago Tuberculosis Institute urgently appeals to all those who have neglected to send in their checks for their Christmas seals to do so as soon as possible.
