

Pupils Presented in Joint Recital

A group of pupils of Edith Ray Young and three pupils of Mrs. M. L. Miller, dramatic teacher, presented a program last Saturday at Miss Young's studio, 1133 Central avenue.

Mrs. Miller's students were Eleanor Lipsch, Arline Lipsch, and Pat Roche. Those of Miss Young's were Dolores Dressel, Betty DeKalb, Barbara Barrett, Richard Hirsch, Marianne Strauch, Olive Dahncke, Margaret Boyle of Winnetka, Billy Wells, and Henrietta Hayson.

Another group of students will be presented in February.

Claude Hamilton, Jr., 430 Woodstock avenue, Kenilworth, returned from Purdue Tuesday to spend his mid-semester vacation with his family.

COMMUNITY THEATRE WINNETKA

Friday-Saturday Eves.
Feb. 2-3

LIONEL BARRYMORE
Joel McCrea—Francis Dee

"ONE MAN'S JOURNEY"

SATURDAY MATINEE
"CHILDREN'S HOUR"

VARSIITY THEATRE

EVANSTON—PHONE UNL. 8900

Today (Thurs.), Fri., Sat.
Feb. 1-2-3

"FOOTLIGHT PARADE"

with
James Cagney—Ruby Keeler
Joan Blondell—Dick Powell
Frank McHugh—Guy Kibbee

ATTENTION!

Doors Open Saturday
At 12:30

Come Early for Prompt Seats!

KIDS! Don't Miss This Week's Thrilling

Chapter of

"Tarzan The Fearless"
Shown Saturday Mat. Only

Sun., Mon., Feb. 4-5

"SITTING PRETTY"

with
Jack Oakie—Jack Haley
Ginger Rogers—Thelma Todd
also
Walt Disney's Color Cartoon
"OLD KING COLE"
and
Novelty Hunting Reel
"COUGAR, KING KILLER"

Tues., Wed., Feb. 6-7

"ONLY YESTERDAY"

with
John Boles—Margaret Sullivan
Benita Hume—Billie Burke
Edna May Oliver

Coming Thurs., Fri., Feb. 8-9
Lionel Barrymore—Alice Brady

In
"SHOULD LADIES BEHAVE?"
From the Play
"THE VINEGAR TREE"

Wilmette Welfare Center Has Extra Days for Service

All members of the Wilmette center of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago are asked please to note extra days that they are responsible for volunteer service at the Alice H. Wood station, 1964 North Halstead street, for the month of February. Due to the unusual demand at this time, members are asked to help four days each week, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday. The schedule chairman, Mrs. C. L. Walliser, will arrange definite dates.

Wilmette had a fine representation at the annual luncheon of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago Wednesday, January 24, at the Blackstone. The reports as given by the president, Philip D. Armour, by the president of the Woman's auxiliary, by the chairman of the doctor's division and by Miss Sarah Place, head of the nursing staff, gave an insight into the real scope, need, and value of the work carried on by these different units.

Eighteen stations are now functioning and hopes are entertained for the reopening of two much needed ones. The mortality rate of those cared for by the stations was .98 of 1 percent. Miss Place, in summarizing their work, explained the need of their visits to the home, the adjusting of social tendencies, the care and arrangements for the pre-school children and the eagerness with which the greater part of the mothers sought to learn the care and cleanliness of children and guidance of the nurses and doctors.

The special guests at the luncheon were the nurses from the various stations. "These people for whom Infant Welfare is working do want to be lifted up," the Wilmette center announces, "and it makes us ask, 'Must we always have slums?'"

Those attending that meeting were Mesdames Lewis Ermeling, A. E. Beirnes, H. Hildebrand, F. E. Parry, C. Burpee, T. C. Moulding, W. A. Kendrick, H. G. Bersie, M. Harms, J. M. Hale, C. T. Frykman, H. A. Finney, and Miss Ella Butz.

Charles F. Downs, who has been living in New York the past ten years, and who spent twenty-five years in Europe previously, left Thursday of last week after a two and one-half months' visit with his sister and family, the A. E. Kimballs of 219 Golf terrace. He has taken a position in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Pierre Bontecou, 836 Chestnut avenue, was luncheon hostess to her bridge club Monday.

SHORE LINES

TWO SUNSETS

CLOUD STUDY

*A dove was hovering o'er the earth
At eventide, I know,
For feathers of its outspread wings
Caught saffron sunset glow.*

JAPANESE

*Ebony trees against a leaf gold sky
Curtained by clouds of deep wistaria hue.*

—E. E. L.

RANDOM THOUGHTS that slipped by the censor—Proving they don't live on violet scent and cream puffs, the Wilmette Wistarias and the Oak Park Petunias promise they will sink their teeth into genuine steak after the hockey battle this Saturday . . . Practiced peeping through keyholes the other night and found that such apertures yield remarkable visibility . . . Nothing, however, rewarded our hungry eyes—but designs on wallpaper . . . Dreamed the other night we wrote the world's best movie scenario, but awoke suddenly to find we'd misplaced our script . . . So the movies will have to lack that added luster . . . Suppressed Desire No. 1,255: To go roller skating down all the smoothest boulevards in the world . . . Unrealized Ambition No. 8,226: To perpetrate pungent puns in the shadow of the pyramids . . . Mild Mid-Winter Madness: That longing to be a hero in the French Foreign Legion . . . Dreamed the other night that we played a piano beautifully no matter where, when or how our fingers hit the keys . . . Awoke with the unpleasant realization that the thing may have been a player piano . . . We hereby testify that the divinest liquor (as a source of literary inspiration) is one good pint of hot coffee . . . "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" reminds us of a modern motor car going 'round a curve . . . Though after-dinner speakers have put us to sleep with many noble thoughts, they've failed to divert us from one of our main purposes in life: namely to hold the world's endurance record for standing on our head and reciting poetry at the same time . . .

YEP, QUITE A HIP-BUILDER

Dear Ed.—

Isn't it true that if Helen of Troy owned the face that launched a thousand ships, Mae West certainly owns the hip that launched a million hips?

—Shan.

Our Friend the Critic says:

If you want balanced advice, stay away from a lot of these new books. Often the writer hasn't anything to say except that he's got an awful ache in his gizzard—or else maybe he just wants to show off by drowning himself in his own stream of consciousness. Peck's Bad Boy got a more wholesome "kick" out of life than do many of these modern fiction characters that need a few good doses of sulphur and molasses—plus a few good nights of sleep.

Saw a lot of these new streamlined cars and have decide to become an Eskimo and paddle around in a free-whaling kayak.

"10 BELOW" IN THE SHADOW
—Being a lover of hamburger, we've almost committed the unpardonable by neglecting to mention that February 2 is ground-hog day.

—R. W. N.

Harry A. Jung to Speak on Situation in Germany

The principal speaker at a meeting to be held at Deerfield-Shields auditorium, Highland Park, Friday evening, February 2, at 8 o'clock, sponsored by Dumaesq Spencer Post, American Legion, the Rotary club and the Highland Park Lion's club, will be Harry A. Jung, honorary general manager of the American Vigilant Intelligence Federation, Chicago. Mr. Jung will speak on the situation in Germany, his subject being "Germany Between the Lines." The American Legion life and drum corps and the high school band will furnish plenty of pep music, and William P. Wilkerson, a Cherokee Indian, will participate in the program. Mr. Jung for almost twenty years has been active in combating organizations seeking to subvert the American government. He is fully informed, is a dynamic speaker, and is especially qualified to handle the subject he has chosen for this meeting. Admission will be free.

GOING TO FLORIDA

Mrs. George Ortseifen and her daughter, Miss Marion Ortseifen, 337 Essex road, Kenilworth, are leaving this week-end by motor for Palm Beach, Fla. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Patrick Lawler and her daughter, Miss Clara Lawler, who were both classmates of Mrs. Ortseifen and Miss Ortseifen at St. Xavier's academy. They will motor down the east coast of Florida and return home by way of the west coast. They expect to spend six or eight weeks in the south, stopping at the various resorts and probably going over to Nassau in the West Indies.

Bob Richardson, 145 Melrose avenue, Kenilworth, is home from Purdue for his mid-semester vacation. He came earlier than most of the students, owing to a sprained ankle.

EDGEWATER BEACH HOTEL

On Lake Michigan 5300 Block—Sheridan Road, Chicago

Dancing Nightly in the Marine Dining Room

Except Sundays

Sundays—Twilight Musicale in the Ballroom

5 to 6 P. M.; Dinner Concert follows in the Marine Dining Room

HARRY SOSNIK and HIS ORCHESTRA

Special Parties for February

Mardi Gras Party Saturday, February 3rd
St. Valentine's Party Saturday, February 10th
Lincoln's Birthday Monday, February 12th
St. Valentine's Day Wednesday, February 14th
Washington's Birthday Thursday, February 22nd

11th Annual Motor Salon

January 26th-February 4th—Display by Uptown Motor Car Dealers in the Passaggio, East and West Lounges

For Reservations and Information Telephone LONGbeach 6000

FOX HEAD BEVERAGES

OLD WAUKESHA ALE

Over 12% proof spirits.
$3.50 per case of 24 bottles.

FOX HEAD LAGER BEER

Over 10% proof spirits.
$2.50 per case of 24 bottles.
Plus Usual Deposit

FOX HEAD SALES CO.

620 MADISON ST. EVANSTON
Phone GREENLEAF 6260