One Case will convince you—that

There IS a Difference

Monarch, Chicago's own brewery, has been in continuous operation for nearly 50 years, operating during the 14 prohibition years under federal supervision.

Over 200,000 barrels of Monarch Beer were sold annually right here in Chicago before prohibition—It was the most popular beer in Chicago. Old timers will verify this.

Adolph Dirian, the bräumeister, made Monarch beer before prohibition. He makes it now. His counsel and advice and his culture of yeast is sought by breweries all over this country.

Serve a case of Monarch in your home: you'll taste the difference.

Monarch is less in price because there is no freight added.

Valencia Offers Wide Variety of Film Attractions

"Moulin Rouge," Valencia theater attraction tonight (Thursday) is lustrous with gorgeous clothes, hot-chances, smart dialog and splendid performances. Constance Bennett plays the lead.

Robert McWade steals the laurels in "Let's Be Ritzy," Valencia's Friday offering which shows Lew Ayres and Patricia Ellis trying to live on Lew's small salary and not succeeding until both learn their lessons.

"Devil Tiger," Saturday film at the Valencia, gets its name from the man-eater which Harry Woods, Kane Richmond and Marion Burns set out to trap in the Malay jungle. Punctuating with tooth and claw the harrowing experiences of this party, are many jungle beasts ripping at each other in fierce combat.

Sunday and Monday, May 27 and 28, bring "The Cat and the Fiddle," with the glorious voice of Jeannette MacDonald and the charm of Ramon Novarro. The songs come in for their share of praise, while the characterization by Charles Butterworth is a delight.

Romance, adventure and humor will be unreeled at the Valencia theater Tuesday, May 29, when James Dunn, detective, and Claire Trevor, tabloid reporter, plunge into the swift plot situations of "Hold That Girl."

Every film enthusiast knows that "It Happened One Night" is a great picture, starring Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert. This is just to remind folks that the Valencia theater, with its wide range sound system, is a fine place to see and hear this film Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 30, 31 and June 1.

Benson and their daughter, Kathryn, of 210 Melrose avenue, Kenilworth, accompanied by Miss Catherine Weary of Winnetka are leaving June 12, motoring east to attend the graduating exercises at Lawrenceville. Their son, George, who is in the senior class, expects to enter Princeton.

Evanston Holds Outdoor Auto Show This Week

"How does the 1934 model automobile look on the road?"

Residents of the north shore will be given a visual answer to that question this week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when dealers of Evanston open their greatest Outdoor Auto show on Lake street, between Hinman and Sherman avenues. The show will be open daily from 1 to 10 p. m. There will be no admission charge and the entire north shore is invited to be present and to inspect the approximately one hundred automobiles to be displayed.

Cars to Be Shown

Among them will be the following makes, and there will be three or four models of each car: Buick, Chevrolet, Chrysler, Dodge, Ford, Hudson, Hupmobile, Lafayette, Nash, Oldsmobile, Plymouth, Pontiac, Studebaker and Terraplane.

This year's show, the second of its kind in Evanston, is being sponsored by the Evanston Automobile Dealers' association, which was recently organized and already has mapped out an intensive program of activities. The outdoor showing of automobiles, it is expected, will become an annual event.

Much interest was attracted by a similar show two years ago, given by the Evanston automobile dealers with the cooperation of the Evanston Chamber of Commerce. This year's show, dealers are confident, will surpass it, inasmuch as more dealers are cooperating and the display will cover twice as much area.

To Use Colored Lights

Colored electric lights will be placed over the entire show and to increase the beauty of the exhibit at night there will be hundreds of Japanese lanterns placed in the trees of Raymond park.

Mr. Vogeding at a special meeting last week appointed the following members of the group to serve on committees in connection with the exhibit:

Publicity, A. S. Dampman and Frank Butler; decorations, Joseph Wescott and C. MacDonald; signs, Bert Bickler and William Schmitt.

Another meeting was held Monday to complete arrangements for the Outdoor Automobile show.
