Kenilworth, gave a garden party for the women of the auxiliary at her home.

Miss Zeida Hutchins of the Northwestern university School of Speech gave two recitations, "The Waltz," and "Powder, Rouge and Lipstick."

Mrs. V. Hendrickson, Wilmette music teacher and a member of the auxiliary, played a piano solo. Miss Dorothy Wilson and Miss Pat Roche presented a one-act farce entitled, "The Disobedient Child." A rhythm tap dance by Mrs. O. G. Daily completed the afternoon's program. Refreshments were served by the social committee, of which Mrs. O. H. Bersch is chairman.

Spanish War Veterans Meeting in Oak Park

The state encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans will take place at Oak Park on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Col. Castle, John J. Peters, Ralph Faupel, William H. Scott and Harry Hargis will represent Wilmette as delegates.

Mrs. Kate Wedding of Washington, D. C., and her granddaughter, Gertrude Wedding, have been spending the past week with the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Corrus, 1315 Wilmette avenue. They are now visiting for two weeks Mrs. Wedding's niece, Mrs. Herman Wutke of Milwaukee, the former Isabel Corrus of Wilmette.

N. Shore Will See a Novelty Circus Parade

A big circus parade, but one entirely different in conception and presentation, is that styled the Live Power Animal parade, which the Standard Oil company now has on exhibit. This unusual array of all the wild beasts of the jungles is not of the caged variety but gigantic reproductions, mounted on big circus trucks.

This novelty parade takes place in Evanston Friday and Saturday of this week. Circus band music will enliven the procession, three big sound trucks being used for that purpose. All of the animals, lions, tigers, etc., though replicas, move heads, legs and bodies when the caravan is in action. This Standard Oil company parade is free to all, an open air entertainment feature that makes reality out of old circus parade traditions.

The parade in Evanston on Friday, beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, will be routed as follows: north on Clark street, Chicago, into Evanston on Chicago avenue, north on Chicago avenue to Davis street, west on Davis street to Oak, north on Oak to Emerson, east on Emerson to Orrington, south on Orrington to Grove, west on Grove to Elmwood, south on Elmwood to Main, east on Main to Hinman, and on Hinman to South boulevard, on South boulevard to Chicago avenue, on Chicago avenue to Clark street and then to Pratt court.

Saturday Parade Route

On Saturday the parade, beginning about 9:30 a. m., will have the following route: west on Howard to Asbury, north on Asbury to West Railroad, north on West Railroad through Evanston, continuing through north shore cities and villages.

Long regarded as an American institution, the circus parade has for years been more of a memory than anything else, having been dropped by the big top enterprises. Now the Standard Oil company, by way of drawing attention to its Live Power show at the World's fair, is bringing the parade again into its own.

At its Live Power show, the Standard Oil company presents a daily performance of real wild animals under Allen King's supervision. Admission is free to all visitors at the fair.

G. C. Packard, 1240 Forest avenue, went to St. Louis, Mo., on business for several days the early part of this week.
