

LAY CORNER STONE FOR NEW PAROCHIAL SCHOOL JULY 4

The corner stone of the new St. Joseph's parochial school, under construction on Lake avenue a short distance east of Ridge road, is to be laid with appropriate ceremonies at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, July 4. Monseigneur Bierman of Evanston will place the stone, and the Rev. Michael Sesterhenn of Chicago, who grew up in St. Joseph's parish, will deliver the address.

The imposing structure, an architect's drawing of which appears above, is expected to be completed about September 1. It is being erected at a cost of $200,000. The Rev. J. A. Neumann is pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church, with which the new school is affiliated.

Mrs. William H. B. Stephens, 619 Central avenue, had as her guest last Monday her nephew, Carl W. Waldow, and his friend, William White, both of Pittsburgh. The young men are working in the Westinghouse exhibit at the Fair. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens will entertain informally on the Fourth of July for Mr. Waldow and Mr. White.
