

Dr. G. A. Rogers, Noted Optometrist, Is Taken by Death

Dr. George Adelmer Rogers, 82 years old, 927 Main street, died on Sunday at his home after an illness of several years. Dr. Rogers, who was prominent in Illinois optometric circles, was born in Jefferson, Ohio, and grew up in Mauston, Wis. He attended the Oshkosh State Teachers' college and became principal of high schools in Hudson, Kenosha and Oconomowoc.

While teaching in evening business college Dr. Rogers lost the sight of one eye. This resulted from an injury received in his youth and turned his attention to the study of the scientific structure of the eye.

Dr. Rogers had been a resident of Wilmette for five years, and prior to that he had lived in Chicago for 35 years. He was a former president of the Illinois Optical society and for many years served as professor of optometry at the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, 4043 S. Drexel boulevard, Chicago. Taking up lecturing on optometry, he became nationally known, and his published books are still in demand.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Helen Sizer Rogers, four sons, Homer Eugene, Walter I., Cecil D. and Frank E. Rogers, three daughters, Mrs. C. E. Partridge, Mrs. H. J. Theil and Mrs. J. H. Lovell, eleven grandsons and six granddaughters.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the chapel at 3415 N. Clark street, Chicago. Burial took place at Memorial Park cemetery.

Golfers Ready for Amateur Title Play

The two 18-hole golf courses at French Lick Springs resort, awaiting the onslaught of more than four hundred golfers expected to compete in the opening event of the Chicago district and the midwest golf season—the Mid-West Amateur golf championship—are nearing top condition and will be in perfect shape for the tournament on April 12, 13 and 14.

Dwight Mitchell, with a 67 compiled in winning the Indiana state amateur championship, holds the record on the championship hill course. Strangely enough, the best official professional score is Walter Hagen's 68 which he pulled down while winning the National P. G. A. With the course in its present shape, the record 67 will be seriously threatened.

The Mid-West Amateur, which officially blasts open the midwest golf season, has been gaining in popularity every year and a record turnout of more than four hundred is expected to battle for this year's championship.

"Here's what it does: Last spring I signed a Murphy-Miles contract. When cold weather came I simply turned on the burner. And all winter long it has required very little attention on my part. The price I pay for oil is always right. My contract guarantees that. I tell you, Jim, a Murphy-Miles fuel oil contract is just common sense for anyone who wants to practically forget about his furnace all winter long!"
