

SEE AERIAL TRAVEL FILM

An aerial log of a flight through the West Indies, around the South American continent, and back to the United States by way of Central America and Mexico was shown at

New Trier Monday afternoon through the courtesy of Pan-American Airways. All Spanish classes viewed the film, and students of Latin-American history and commercial geography also were invited to attend.

Y.M.C.A. College Holds Open House This Friday

An Open House party for graduating high school students has been announced by the Central Y. M. C. A. college, for Friday afternoon, May 24, from 3 until 6 o'clock. Alfred Volpe, president of the Student Council of Central college, extends a special invitation to the seniors of the high school in this district to attend. Features of the entertainment program, which is in charge of the Student council, will be a hypnotism experiment conducted by Dr. J. L. Hirning, professor of psychology, a one-act play by the Little Theatre association, music by the Men's Glee club, and a fencing exhibition by the Coed Fencing club. Dancing and refreshments will round out the afternoon.

VISIT IN DAYTON

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lindsey, Jr., and daughter, Patsy, 120 Abingdon avenue, Kenilworth, are leaving Saturday for Dayton, Ohio, where they will spend a week visiting Mrs. Lindsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Burkhard.

Students of Speech Hold Debate Series

Students in Mrs. Kathryn Smith's speech classes at New Trier High school have been engaging in a series of debates during the past week. An affirmative team composed of Jane Krause, Bill Jackson and Jean Perrill won a decision over a negative team made up of John Dornboss, Robert Dierks and Derb Dennis in a debate on the question, "Resolved, that a board of judges should replace trial by jury."

The chain store question also was discussed in one of the debates. Ed Kelly, Art Kloefer and Genevieve Beck argued that "chain stores are detrimental to the best interests of the American people." Muriel Bradley, Herbert Meyer and Derb Dennis upheld the negative side of the question. The negative team won.

That the United States should adopt the British system of broadcasting was the subject of another debate. James Wilmington, Marion Husar and Bob Cordell upheld the affirmative and Jack Lechner, Francis Duncan and Ed Joyce the negative. The negative won the decision. The debates were judged by Chester E. MacLean, debate coach at New Trier.

Wisconsin Resorts Now Have Information Bureau

A group of selected Wisconsin resorts, representing every type of recreation place in the state from fishing lodges where angling is the principal attraction to sophisticated places offering a variety of pastimes for the entire family, have established a convenient information bureau in Chicago. This new office is located at 180 North Michigan avenue, in the heart of Chicago's extensive travel office district.

The new information center, known as the Wisconsin Resort bureau, will be under the management of Erna Kirtland who is well acquainted with the entire Wisconsin recreational area. Erna Kirtland has used great care in the selection of her assistants who will always be on duty at the Chicago offices, and each member will have first hand knowledge for the benefit of inquiring vacationists.

Wisconsin's nation-wide reputation as a recreational state naturally attracts the interest of many vacationists. Previously it has been necessary for the prospective visitor to make inquiries of many sources, and then come to a decision based principally upon what could be gathered from printed descriptive matter. The new Chicago office service rendered by the Wisconsin Resort bureau fills a real need, it is pointed out, by concentrating complete information about many desirable resorts of varied character in one spot where trained attendants will give factual information on places especially suiting the individual's requirements.

GUEST OF HONOR

Mrs. H. E. Blair of Clearwater, Fla., arrived Monday to visit the Miles Seeleys, 705 Roger avenue, Kenilworth. Mrs. Seeley entertained at a bridge luncheon on Wednesday for Mrs. Blair and tonight Mrs. Seeley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pardee of Evanston, are giving a bridge dinner in her honor. On Saturday the Seeleys will entertain at a cocktail party preceding a dinner dance at the South Shore country club and on Sunday they will give another cocktail party.

Mrs. L. D. McShane was hostess at luncheon to her bridge club Wednesday at her home 556 Earlston road, Kenilworth.

CAMP

..means Fun

For Your Girl and Boy

If you were to ask an "old-timer" at Camp O-Ki-Hi (North Shore Day Camp for boys and girls) what he or she enjoyed most while at camp, nine chances to one the answer would be "The overnight cavalry hikes!"

Both boys and girls go on these hikes, and they're conducted in the same manner as regulation U. S. Army cavalry treks. They pack equipment, pitch tents, cook over campfires, and sleep rolled in blankets, inside their "pup" tents, or under the stars if they prefer. Riding masters and supervisors accompany the "troops," and the hike is a time of wholesome fun and good sportsmanship.

This year, O-Ki-Hi offers an even more complete and varied program. Chief Gray Wolf and Princess Memgnwa, real Chippewa Indians, have joined the staff. New horses and additional instructors are being provided. Woodcraft, horsemanship, boxing, wrestling, archery, fencing, sun-bathing, feet and posture correction are valuable parts of the regular program.

For parents who like to have their children home evenings, Camp O-Ki-Hi is ideal. Youngsters for the day camp are picked up in the morning and brought back at night. And if you plan to be away for a week, two weeks, or for the entire summer, you can leave your children at O-Ki-Hi all the time, secure in the knowledge that they will enjoy a glorious summer of fun, health and character building, while you're having your own summer in peace and satisfaction.

Reservations are rapidly being filled, and we suggest you find out about Camp O-Ki-Hi before too late in the month. Write or phone for booklet and detailed information.
