Circle Sponsors Program and Tea in Tulip Garden

"With about two-thousand tulips in bloom, Mrs. C. D. Ewer's garden sounds like a little bit of Holland transplanted to Wilmette," a member of the committee of the North End circle of the Congregational church remarked as she spoke of the program and tea her circle is sponsoring in this same garden Friday afternoon of this week from 2 until 5.

At 3 a program will be given by Mrs. Sarkis H. Nahigian, of Evanston, who, in costume, will give in her talk, "A Glimpse of Armenia."

Mrs. Nahigian's father was an Armenian Congregational minister who was educated at Harport college, serving later on the faculty, then entering the ministry. He was one of the first Armenians to come to America, making his home in Worcester, Mass. His daughter came to America when she was four years old and lived in the east, receiving all her education there. Soon after her marriage, Mrs. Nahigian came west, and has lived in Chicago for twenty-seven years. Because she was interested in the place of her birth as well as the history of one of the oldest Christian people, she gives her enlightening paper entitled "A Glimpse of Armenia."

Not only the opportunity to hear this program, have a cup of tea, and enjoy the riot of color in the garden of Mrs. Ewer's home at 1111 Ashland avenue awaits guests Friday, for, from La Porte, Texas, more than two-hundred Cape Jasmine blossoms, (gardenias) are arriving. They will be displayed in all their exotic fragrance and waxy whiteness. Their freshness depends upon water, their leaves themselves drinking up most of it, those familiar with the flower advise for the benefit of purchasers who wish to preserve the gardenia as long as possible.

The hostess has invited Mrs. James W. Alder, Mrs. C. R. Bixby, Mrs. Lorin A. Bower, Miss Florence Butz, Mrs. Herbert B. Mulford, Mrs. Richard Kemp, Mrs. W. J. King, and Mrs. R. E. Pattison Kline to pour tea and coffee.
