

Activities Ticket Proves Popularity With N.T. Students

New Trier High school's biggest three dollars' worth—the Activities Ticket sponsored by the Student council—went on sale to students on September 12. After only four days of campaigning, 1,298 students had secured their tickets. The campaign is due to close on Friday, September 20, and the Student council feels confident that the goal of 1,500 will be reached by then.

Due to the fact that the Activities Ticket is of such advantage to the students, for, besides financially supporting all student organizations, it saves each student $3, the Student council hopes that the students will take advantage of this and push the ticket sales well over the 1,500 mark.

As the $3 paid by the student does not begin to pay for the value received, additional funds were needed and the council has enlisted the financial support of the Tri-Ship club and the board of education.

Elections for advisory room council representatives were held this last week and the first regular meeting of the Outer council will be held next Monday, September 23.
