peak month of motor accidents — many the result of impaired vision.

Shortening daylight makes more night driving. Night driving calls for clearer, sharper sight and quicker thinking.

Blurred vision creates slower muscular reactions — the cause of 20% of accidents.

NEW TRIER HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Debaters Prepare for Busy Season

Students interested in winning a place on the New Trier varsity debate squad this season were to show their wares this Thursday, by appearing before Debate Coach Chester E. MacLean to give three to four-minute speeches on debatable subjects of their own choosing. Those students who show the most promise will appear later before the Gavel club, amateur debating organization, and members of the club will assist in making the squad selections.

The subject for debate this year is, "Resolved, that the several states should enact legislation providing for a system of complete medical care available to all citizens at public expense."

New Trier again will take part in interscholastic debate competition as a member of the Big Twelve Debating league. In order to avoid the necessity of having member teams travel long distances, the league is to be divided into three sections this year. In one group will be New Trier, Waukegan, Oak Park and Proviso, in another (the Chicago city high school section) Von Stueben, Englewood, Tilden Tech and McKinley, and in the third George Rogers Clark of Whiting, Thornton Township of Harvey, Hammond and J. Sterling Morton of Cicero.

The schools will compete with members of their own group and at the close of the season each section will select its two best teams to battle for the league championship.

Sidney Craig Is Named Forensic Board Leader

At a meeting of the New Trier forensic board on Monday Sidney Craig was elected acting manager, John Rice, assistant manager, Dorothy Eisler, secretary, and Marjorie Wood, treasurer. The other members of the board are Dorothy Holmes, chairman of the inter-scholastic relations committee, Verna Archambault, chairman of the social committee, and Jane McClintock, chairman of the publicity committee. Because the board has so many duties and because the membership is small, each person has been assigned several responsibilities besides those already mentioned.

Music Club Arranges Activities for Year

The C. L. Burlingham home, 1116 Tower road, Hubbard Woods, was the scene of the first meeting of the Senior Music club of New Trier last Thursday afternoon. The club has planned an interesting program of activities for the year. Officers of the organization, elected last spring, are: Ann Olson, president; Bill MacMorran, vice-president; Jean Small, secretary, and Donald Scarff, treasurer. Ann Winscott is social chairman, and she is being assisted by Betty Burlingham, Virginia Buchanan and Betty Faxon. The Junior Music club held its first meeting Wednesday of this week at Barbara Ripley's home in Wilmette.

HEADS GAVEL CLUB

Sidney Craig, veteran member of New Trier's debate squad, was elected president of the Gavel club at the organization's first meeting of the year last Friday. Other officers elected at the same time were: John Rice, vice-president; Dorothy Boettiger, secretary; Dorothy Holmes, treasurer, and Clarence Lineberger, sergeant-at-arms.

All-Day Exhibit Planned to Give Facts on Schools

An all-day exhibit for the purpose of giving New Trier girls and their mothers information in regard to numerous women's colleges, their facilities and their requirements will be held next Wednesday in the fourth floor dramatic studio of Miss Elisabeth Stanwood in the central building at New Trier.

Mrs. Edith M. Lewis of the Women's College Information bureau will be on hand to answer any questions that the girls or their mothers may have concerning college plans.

Included in the list of colleges which are to be represented in the exhibit are: Barnard, Connecticut, Goucher, Lake Erie, Mills, Milwaukee-Downer, Mount Holyoke, Pembroke, Randolph-Macon, Rockford, Simmons, Smith, Sweet Briar, Wells, Western, Wheaton, Radcliffe and Wellesley.

The exhibit will be open at 8:30 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Lewis will remain until late in the afternoon, or as long as any of the girls or their mothers wish to speak to her. Private interviews with Mrs. Lewis also may be secured by getting in touch with her at the Chicago College club, 196 E. Delaware place, Chicago.

N. T. Girls' Club Names Committee Members for Term

At a recent assembly at New Trier High school the names of the girls who will serve on the various committees of the Girls' club for the first semester of the 1935-1936 term were announced. The club is composed of all girls attending the high school. Its committee members are:

Music Groups to Give Program at Convention

When the Lake Shore division of the Illinois State Teachers' association holds its fall meeting at New Trier on Monday, October 28, music for the morning session will be provided by the New Trier music department. The mixed choir and the combined glee clubs will sing, and the New Trier orchestra will accompany the numbers by the glee club. Mrs. Marian Cotton, head of New Trier's music department, has asked Deerfield-Shields high school to send its band to play at the afternoon session.
