Woman Authority on Plebiscites Will Lecture on Feb. 11

Miss Sarah Wambaugh, brilliant internationalist, famed as the world authority in plebiscites, will give her lecture "Europe What Now?" at the Winnetka Woman's club Tuesday evening, February 11, for the benefit of the Radcliffe Alumnae North Shore chapter scholarship fund. The lecture will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Wambaugh, daughter of a well known professor at Harvard Law school, was adviser and director for the League of Nations of the Saar plebiscite, and is also the author of "A Monogram on Plebiscites," written for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. She declared that the Saar experience showed the world had in the League of Nations an instrument capable of doing dangerous and complicated tasks, and that there was no need to change it, although it would remain handicapped while the United States remained outside.

Miss Wambaugh has held many diplomatic posts and has been decorated by several governments in recognition of her services. She is, in addition, an engaging speaker who carries away her audience by her humor and charm.

The chairman of the evening is Mrs. Harry J. Dunbaugh of Hubbard Woods. Serving on her committee are Mrs. Walter T. Fisher of Hubbard Woods, Miss Harriet Leonard, Mrs. Heyliger de Windt, and Mrs. William A. Magie, II, of Winnetka, and Mrs. Ralph G. Crandall and Miss Jane Cove, of Evanston.

Miss Wambaugh will be the house guest of Mrs. de Windt while she is in the Chicago vicinity.

Mrs. J. E. Day and her daughter, Virginia, of Davenport, Iowa, are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Brandt, 816 Forest avenue.

Welfare Board Enters New Era of Its Service

efficiency. Mrs. Barbara Blaylock, who has heretofore carried on the work so loyally and faithfully, has unselfishly given way to such a person, fully realizing the importance to the future progress of the work of an experience she had not had.

Has Thorough Training

Mrs. Robinson, now in charge of the office, is fully equipped to assume its responsibilities. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan, and has done graduate work in social service at the University of Chicago. She has been in the Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare since 1932, first as a case worker and later as a case work supervisor. She has been in the Evanston office of the bureau since 1933, and has supervised those case workers in charge of Wilmette families. In this way, she has become acquainted with social work needs of this community. In addition, Mrs. Robinson has had a broad experience in other fields. She formerly worked in the war-time government service, dealing with personnel.

Cite Type of Work

As the work of the welfare develops into a family case working agency it will, in general, care for the following types of cases:

1. Families in which the major problem is the need for financial assistance. This includes families who are not eligible for county relief, as for example, where a head of a family is working full time, although the income is not sufficient to meet the full need of the family. It will also include families who need emergency short time relief only.
2. Families and individuals who seek special help and advice for problems other than financial ones.
3. Families who have requested help for some particular problem and who are also in need of financial assistance.

Continue Employment Service

The employment service so splendidly developed by Mrs. Blaylock will be continued by the board, and efforts made to extend it in order that as many of the unemployed as possible may be supplied with temporary work if permanent jobs are not available.

The aim of the welfare organization will be to work very closely with individuals who already know the families seeking its aid, so that a unified plan may be worked out to the best advantage of the family. It will be the constant aim of the welfare to help those who seek its aid, in a social as well as financial way, over their period of difficulty.

LOOTS ALMS BOX

Walter Comeaux, 28 years old, giving his address as 1027 N. LaSalle street, Chicago, was arrested in St. Francis Xavier church on January 31, on suspicion of having robbed the alms box. To this charge he confessed, admitting having netted $34.56 in eight thefts. Just before his arrest he had secured 67 cents. He was evidently making a business of church thievery, as he confessed to robbing five or six churches in Evanston, others in Oak Park and nearby suburban towns. He was taken before Police Magistrate John J. Peters and bound over to the grand jury, being remanded to the county jail. Comeaux is considered by local authorities to be mentally unbalanced.

Mrs. G. W. Vaught, 511 Brier road, entertained four tables at luncheon and bridge at Shawnee Country club, Monday.
