Garden Market to Be Colorful Spot in Evanston

The Evanston's Garden market with its booths with plants and flowers, its out-of-door luncheon, its entertainment, its garden accessories, will be staged Saturday, May 16, in Raymond Park from 10 in the morning, on.

Its purpose is varied: to help the growers; to further and increase an interest in gardens and plants; to raise money to help continue the Evanston Garden club's projects, namely the Shakespeare garden at Northwestern; to fight tussock moths; to buy seed for Community gardens; to help state conservation.

Flag raising is at 10. Mrs. Alfred H. Gross, mistress of ceremonies, will introduce Mayor Charles Bartlett, who will make a brief address of welcome and turn the market over to the community. The fife and drum corps of the Evanston Boy Scouts will play at this time. Between 12 and 1, the Evanston Township High school band, under the direction of Lawrence Swihart, will play.

Entertainment, in charge of Mrs. Irwin Rew, will include a balloon man, a tin-type man and a "hot-dog" man.

Growers are enthusiastic, the garden market sponsors declare about having an opportunity to sell their plants and shrubs.

Mrs. Warren Buckley and Mrs. Budd C. Corbus are co-chairmen of the market. Mrs. William J. White is chairman of decorating the grounds which will be gay with colored pennants and hundreds of balloons.

Mrs. Horace Capron has some artistic posters for the Garden market made by the art department of the high school and Roycemore.

Mrs. William B. Johnson, chairman of the luncheon committee, has planned an appetizing luncheon at reasonable prices, to be eaten outdoors at little tables, and, the club states, "we are going to sell the famous World's Fair doughnuts."

Mrs. Gabriel Slaughter, chairman of growers, reports that about a dozen growers will bring their choicest plants and shrubs, from seedlings in pots to evergreens in big balls of dirt. Mrs. John R. Williams has the donations table. Members and friends bring their plants from their gardens. This booth is called, "From My Garden to Your Garden."

Mrs. Edwin P. Welles, chairman of the exhibits, reports that individual designs in wrought-iron from a well known forge will be on display, as will bird houses, and a garden craft woodworking specialty company will have an exhibit.

Mrs. George Wilkinson, chairman of the accessories, has many charming things for porch and out-of-door rooms.

Girl Scouts will sell little nosegays and bouquets made by a special committee.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Benson, 210 Melrose avenue, Kenilworth, returned Saturday from a week's stay at French Lick Springs, Ind.

Miss Virginia Nelson, a senior and a member of Alpha chapter of Phi Beta at Northwestern, is one of the three girls from the active chapter to give the program for the monthly meeting of the fraternity May 18, in Highland Park. Miss Nelson is also one of the three Phi Betas chosen to appear on the Senior Honor recital program.

Lilac Arbor Is Background for Recent Wedding

Before a profusion of lilacs in pink, white and lavender, covering an arbor, Miss Gladys Pancoe of Glencoe and Herbert Kamen of New York repeated their marriage vows last Sunday afternoon at the Graemere hotel in Chicago.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pancoe of 455 Woodlawn avenue, wore a shimmering white and silver wedding dress made with a long train, and a finger-tip veil fastened to a cap of braided tulle, pearls and tiny flowers holding the cap in place. A spray of calla lilies completed her costume.

The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock by Rabbi Weissfeld before a gathering of about 150 guests, a wedding supper following.

Pink and blue chiffon gowns made with capes were worn by the bride's attendants, who carried colonial bouquets. Mrs. Frank Kamen, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor, and Miss Phyllis Chapman and Miss Rochelle Altman, both of Chicago, as bridesmaids. The little junior bridesmaid, Rhjon (Janny) Pancoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Pancoe of Glencoe, also in pink and blue, carried a colonial bouquet of tea roses.

Frank Kamen of Chicago, formerly of New York, served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Sidney Pancoe, brother of the bride, and Edward Rose.

Among the out-of-town guests were the members of the bridegroom's family from New York, some of whom came by train and some by airplane. In the party were his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Feinstein, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kamen, and five sisters, including Mrs. Samuel Krebs, Mrs. William Greenfogel, Mrs. Harry Friedman, Mrs. Samuel Greenburg, and Mrs. J. Weiser.

After a wedding trip to New York, Mr. Kamen and his bride will make their home in Glencoe with Mr. and Mrs. Pancoe until fall, when they will move to Chicago.

Save Lilac Day

Lilac Day for the Chicago Plant Fruit and Flower guild is about May 17 and 18, it is announced this week. "Save the day and save your lilacs," the guild urges. Collect them for distribution among city homes and charitable institutions where needy shut-ins may enjoy their fragrance and beauty. "Share your lilacs" with those who have no lawns and gardens wherein lilacs grow.

The last club formal of the season will be held at Shawnee Country club Saturday evening, May 16. Joe Rudolph's orchestra will play for the dinner dance. Mrs. A. R. Carman, Jr., of Evanston is chairman of entertainment, and Mrs. Lewis E. Walker of Evanston will be the official hostess for the evening.
