Chicago Symphony Orchestra Will Open Its Winter Season October 15

Dr. Frederick Stock, Conductor, Recruits Noted Artists

Announcement comes from Orchestra Hall of the opening of the forty-sixth consecutive season of Chicago Symphony Orchestra concerts on October 15. This will be the thirty-second year of Frederick Stock's conductorship.

The season will consist of twenty-eight Thursday evening and Friday afternoon concerts. These will be played consecutively except for Christmas week, when no performances will be given on December 24-25. To care for this mid-season vacation, the season will be extended one week to April 29-30. The series of twelve Tuesday afternoon concerts will be played on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month except in December when the program scheduled for the 22nd will be played on the 29th.

Young People's Concerts

A series of six Young People's concerts will be given, one each month on the third Wednesday afternoon at 3:45; and fourteen popular concerts on Saturday nights are scheduled.

Dr. Stock has called on the services of twenty-two artists who will appear with the orchestra. In the order of their appearances at the Thursday-Friday series, they are: Fritz Kreisler, violin; Guiomar Novaes, piano; Mischa Mischakoff, violin; Ernest Schelling, piano; Jan Smeterlin, piano; John Weicher, violin; Joseph Vito, harp; Jose Iturbi, Guest Conductor; Serge Prokofieff, Guest Conductor and pianist; Alexander Brailowsky, piano; Josef Hofmann, piano; Gaspar Cassado, violon-cello; Claire Dux, soprano; Dalies Frantz, piano; Vladimir Horowitz, piano; Rudolph Ganz, piano; Myra Hess, piano; Albert Spalding, violin.

Soloists engaged for the Tuesday series are Guiomar Novaes, piano; Tomford Harris, piano; Gregor Piatigorsky, violoncello; Jose Iturbi, Guest Conductor and Stephen Hero, violin; Rosalyn Tureck, piano; Josef Hofmann, piano; Claire Dux, soprano; Mischa Mischakoff, violin; Vladimir Horowitz, piano; and Albert Spalding, violin.

From this list it would appear that four artists are new to Chicago, and one appears in a new role. Jan Smeterlin, piano, Gaspar Cassado, cello, and Rosalyn Tureck, piano, make their debuts to symphony patrons. Jose Iturbi, famous Spanish pianist, comes here for the first time as a Guest Conductor. He will bring his son-in-law, Stephen Hero, violinist, who will appear with him.

Six of the season's soloists are American and four of these hail from Chicago: Weicher, Vito, Tureck and Harris are native Chicagoans while Dalies Frantz and Albert Spalding complete the list of American born artists.

The first rehearsal of the season will be held in Orchestra Hall, October 12. The first of the Thursday evening-Friday afternoon pairs will be played October 15-16. The first Popular concert is to be played October 17 and the first of the Tuesday series on October 27.

PINE GROVE CAMPERS' DELIGHT

Hundreds of Campers at Dunes Park of Illinois have had reason to thank the late Robert Douglas of Lake county who planted the grove of pines just north of Waukegan, on the lake shore, some seventy years ago. The pines are one of the most attractive features of the 1,500-acre park which is to be converted into a permanent state playground.
