New Trier Exhibits Art Treasure Gifts

Sixteen handsome colored facsimilies of paintings by a group of famous Dutch, French and American painters, the gift to New Trier High school of the Carnegie Corporation foundation, are now on exhibition in the foyer of the art department, Miss Catherine Murphy, director of the department, announces.

The reproductions are a part of a large collection of books and prints presented to the school by the foundation, a collection used extensively in coordinating the work of the classes in art appreciation and applied art. The new reproductions, simply yet attractively framed, have been skillfully copied and are only slightly less effective than their originals.

Included in the group are: "Red Horses" by Franz Marc, "Boy With the Fife" by Claude Monet, "The Bridge" by Claude Monet, "Girl Reading" by Auguste Renoir, "Boy With Red Vest" by Paul Cezanne, "Rock Landscape" by Paul Cezanne, "Cornfields" by John Nash, "La Repetition" by Edgar Degas, "The Bridge" by Preston Dickinson, "Toll Gate" by Henri Rousseau, "White Horse" by Paul Gauguin, "Big Pine" by Andre Derain, "Bermuda" by Winslow Homer, "Red Wallpaper" by Georges Bracque, "High Yaller" by Reginald Marsh, and "Bridge at Arles" by Vincent Van Gogh.

OPEN ART EXHIBIT

The membership exhibition of the Association of Chicago Painters and Sculptors will open with a preview reception at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, February 13, at the Chicago Galleries association, 215 North Michigan avenue. The exhibition continues to March 9.

Mardi Gras for Art League and Guests Tuesday

Transporting customs and costumes of the colorful Mardi Gras carnivals and parades in European lands to the Winnetka Woman's club, the North Shore Art league will have an evening of dancing and cards and gayety, tonight. The revellers will end the evening by hanging and burying an effigy of King Carnival, an effigy patterned after those burned abroad by dancing throngs, to mark the end of a fortnight's rule.

Members of the league and others planning to attend this ball, which is open to the public, have been finding amusement before the ball in contriving their costumes, many of them based on those of carnivals abroad, where paraders and onlookers alike deck themselves out as fantastic animals or birds, or in babies' clothes or other costumes. Masks will be on sale at the door of the club for those unable to obtain them earlier. Evening dress or masquerade is optional.

The committee making all arrangements for the ball includes Mannel Hahn of Winnetka, chairman; Hazel Crow Ewell of Highland Park, Grace P. Brion and C. Francis Pearce, Jr., of Glencoe, Sybel Vennema of Winnetka, and René Lavenant of Evanston, president of the league. Their duties have included the preparation of a list of patrons and patronesses well known in artistic and social circles of Chicago and the various north shore villages.

PLAN DINNER MEETING

The Skokie Valley Stamp club will hold a special dinner meeting Wednesday evening, February 10, at 7 o'clock in the Indian Trail Tearoom, Winnetka. The speaker of the evening will be E. R. Jacobs of Evanston, who is considered to be one of the outstanding philatelists of the country. All stamp collectors in the Skokie valley area are invited.
