New Village Code Is Adopted By Board; First Revision Since 1920

Trustee Bower Given Credit for Successful Completion

At its regular meeting Tuesday night the Village board, with President Kinne and all the trustees present, adopted the revised Village code, amending or repealing all ordinances necessary to bring it up to date. The code had not been revised, until now, since 1920.

The meeting was the big moment for the Judiciary committee, consisting of Trustee Bower, chairman, and Trustees Cochran and Sporrer, for the long looked for ordinance revising the Wilmette code, completed after well over a year of intensive work, was up for adoption and publication.

Trustee Cochran presented the ordinance, No. 1804, at the meeting of the board on March 9. Briefly, some of the more important changes in existing ordinances are as follows:

Magistrate on Salary

Changing the office of police magistrate from a fee to a salary basis. Two reasons: Spikes the charge that the magistrate imposes fines for the sole purpose of collecting fees, without regard to merit of complaints. Gives the magistrate compensation for handling a large number of state cases for which he now receives no compensation.

Prohibits the riding of bicycles in the streets, and makes it compulsory to use the sidewalks. Requires the registration of all bicycles, and displaying of a license plate on the bicycle, the same as on automobiles. This service to be without charge to owners. Reason, safety and aid in recovering stolen wheels. All bicycles ridden at night must carry a front light visible to a distance of 300 feet, and a rear reflector.

Parking places for bicycles to be provided in the business sections.

New regulations covering the erection and maintenance of billboards. In addition to the permit now required, an annual inspection fee is provided.

The operations of excavators are to be controlled through a requirement that all persons and concerns engaged in this work take out Village licenses.

Creation of a bureau of vital statistics, for the registration of all births and deaths within the village, and other statistics relating to health department activities.

A change in the dog ordinance provides that dogs suspected of having rabies will be hospitalized at Village expense, provided the owner does not object to the hospital selected.

Village Manager

Of widespread interest is the Village manager ordinance. The principal change affects the status of the Village manager, making him an officer of the Village, which requires a residence in the state of one year. He may, however, become an employee of the Village without the residence requirement, but would not have status of an officer.

Of outstanding concern is the milk supply, and the milk ordinance is therefore brought up to date by the inclusion of the "Grade A" provisions recommended by the bureau which administers the Federal Pure Food act.

For more than a year the Judiciary committee of the board has worked intensively on the code revision, its chairman, Trustee Bower, bearing the heavy burden of direction. Trustee Sporrer and Cochran, Village President Kinne and Village Attorney James, together with other members of the board, have labored incessantly to complete the difficult task.

Only Two Weeks Remain in Cover Contest Sponsored by Publications

Art League Cooperates in Judging; Deadline Is April 1

Only two weeks remain for entries in the competition sponsored by the North Shore Art league in conjunction with the Hollister publications.

As announced two weeks ago, WILMETTE LIFE, WINNETKA TALK, and GLENCOE NEWS are offering a first prize of $25, and a second prize of $15 for the best black and white cover designs submitted. These covers will be used on the magazines as soon as the judges have selected them. As explained, the judges will be appointed, two by the Art club and one, a technical man, who will represent the Lloyd Hollister publications, more in an advisory capacity than as a judge of art.

In addition to the two prizes, it is the hope of the Hollister publications that a number of additional covers will be submitted, which it will find worthy of purchase. A purchase price of $10 per cover has been set and will be paid for all those used.

Judge Anonymously

Covers will be submitted and judged anonymously, according to the rules published in the March 4 issue and must be in the hands of the North Shore Art league by April 1. They will be hung in the Art league studio, Community House, Winnetka.

for the judging and for a period thereafter, and the display will be open to the general public.

Covers must be of 22 inches deep by 20 inches wide size, general or seasonal in character, in black and white, without lettering, and signed with a nom de plume or symbol according to the rules laid out in the March 4 issue. Entry blanks may be obtained from the Art league or the Lloyd Hollister publication offices, and entries will be received from any resident in New Trier township, or any member of the North Shore Art league. It is to be hoped that there will be an overwhelming amount of entries to encourage both organizations to go further with this idea of competition.

This Week's Cover

The cover on this issue is a reproduction of a picture made by Clyde Brown of Wilmette, chief of the photographic staff of The Chicago Daily News, and noted master of the camera. It depicts two peasant women who Mr. Brown photographed on a farm near Poznan, Poland.

This is one of several European pictures Mr. Brown will exhibit at Winnetka Community House beginning Friday, March 19. The exhibit is sponsored by the North Shore Art league.
