CENTURY-OLD IRON PATTERN FEATURE OF HOME

Cast iron treillage made in moulds one hundred years old will grace the entrance porch of this colonial home which will be erected by James Crabb, builder of fine north shore homes. Mr. Crabb is building this house just west of the model home, which he built last fall at 2226 Chestnut avenue, Wilmette.

The house will contain four bedrooms and two beautifully tiled baths, besides the customary first floor rooms and lavatory. An attached two-car garage forms a delightfully secluded re-entrant angle. The basement rumpus room will be complete with fireplace.

Mr. Crabb is building this home for the market and will have it completed by mid-summer.

L. Morgan Yost, architect, of Wilmette, is now drawing the plans for this house, which he has designed to maintain an harmonious relationship with its neighbor mentioned above, which he also designed for Mr. Crabb.

St. Patrick's Party Opens North Shore Club Season

A St. Patrick's Day party marked the opening of the 1937 social season at the North Shore Golf club, according to Harry W. Leyghton, chairman of the season opener.

Joe Rudolph, famous as one of the three radio doctors, and his band, played for the dancing.

An outstanding social calendar has been planned for the 1937 season by William E. Potter, Jr., chairman, and his entertainment committee.

Herbert J. Lorber is president of the North Shore Golf club.

Returns From Inspection of Oriental Rugs in East

S. K. Jorjorian, 607 Davis street, Evanston, well known importer and dealer in Oriental rugs, returned Monday from New York, where he, together with other leading rug dealers of the country, gathered to inspect the recently-arrived Oriental rugs as they were released from the U. S. Customs office. Enroute to New York, Mr. Jorjorian spent two weeks at Miami Beach and St. Augustine, Fla. While at St. Augustine, Mr. Jorjorian was the guest of his sister, Mrs. M. Altoonjian, and her husband.

OFFER APPRAISAL COURSES

The School of Business of Columbia university and the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers of the National Association of Real Estate boards jointly announce the opening of two case-study courses in real estate appraisal to be given at Columbia university this summer. Appraisal I, to be given June 7-19 offers (1) a general groundwork in fundamental valuation principles applicable to all classes of real estate, and (2) proper procedure in the appraisal of residential properties. Appraisal II, to be given June 21-July 3, offers practical training in the appraisal of typical small income properties. Headquarters will be the John Jay Hall on the campus of the university.
