COMMON-SENSE COLUMN

By E. C. Cazal & J. B. Seyler

PROPHETS

Politicians tell us that if such and such is done, or not done, disaster is sure to follow. It is done, or not done, and nothing happens. Business prophets predict dire things ahead, or the reverse, until we become dizzy.

Yet the sun comes up every morning, the seasons come and go, boys and girls fall in love, marry, raise families, and eternal cycle of life keeps going.

People become scared to death over something that is apt to give out, and along comes some fellow with something better.

It isn't the future that demands our best attention—it is today's job.

B. A. Crowes Plan Two Months Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Burt A. Crowe, 234 Raleigh road, Kenilworth, are to have two months abroad. Mrs. Crowe is leaving the north shore Friday of this week to spend a week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence T. Ansermet to Be Conductor for Music Festival stalled an additional number of new benches outside the pavilion, making 2,000 free seats available for the general admission price only. The remarkable acoustics of Ravinia make it possible to enjoy all concerts from all adjacent points of benches and lawn in the park, it was added.

Refreshments Ready

Mrs. H. Green, whose tea rooms of Highland Park and Lake Forest are well known, will again be in charge of the refectory, where a variety of light refreshments may be procured, for early picnickers and concert patrons. New coffee urns have been installed against cool evenings and cool beverages are available for warm ones.

Enthusiastic reports emanate from the workers at Ravinia park as to the beauty and practicability of the new widened stage, with acoustically correct orchestra enclosure. Much attention has been given to the stage shape to insure perfect sound projection and it is believed that the new simple set shaped somewhat like the old rectangular phonograph horn will provide the proper setting both for the visual and oral effect of the orchestra.

The festival committee, it was declared, is eager to stress the fact that the entire Ravinia park, playgrounds, lawns, and wooded walks, together with the refectory and 2,000 free seats are at the disposal of all for the price of admission to the park, and that none unable to obtain reservations for any specific night need stay away on that account. "The twenty acres of Ravinia park afford space for all," it was added.
