CENTRELLA LEAGUE

Captain Harold Bernsten and his J. J. Lipp Paper company team proved to be of championship material last Tuesday evening by taking 3 straight games from Frank Weber's Eagles, bowling under the colors of the Gebhardt Chili Powder company of San Antonio, Texas.

The Russen family of Glenview, with Captain Uncle Charlie directing the Bremner Bros. team, set the Black Shirts from Italy down for 3 games in a row; how it happened no one knows, but Johnny Lester, Captain of Nottoli Bros. Produce team, could not keep his team out of the gutter, and so Nottoli's Black Shirts are back in second place after a brief stay as the top leaders of the league.

With Captain Phil Sturlini of the Old Monk team setting the example for his teammates with games of 200 and 212 respectively, many of the dopesters are favoring the Old Monk team to be one of the strong contenders for the championship next spring. Clarence Bach, who bowled with last year's champions, has not as yet hit his fast rolling stride, and when he does—watch out—as the Old Monks will have a power machine in motion.

Friday, November 11, being Armistice Day, there will be no bowling. Wilmette Post, No. 46, American Legion, will be holding their annual Armistice Day dinner and party.

The following Friday, November 18, bowling will resume with Thanksgiving turkeys as special awards. There will be one 15 pound turkey waiting for the bowler with the highest number of total pins for the three games on each pair of alleys. Three turkeys—three winners. Everyone has an equal chance, as full handicaps are to be used.

WILMETTE BOWLING ALLEY

The old question came up again, how can a team with the highest average be in the cellar in their league? Here is the answer: when a team is going along at their natural clip and run into a bunch of red-hot bowlers no matter how good they are, they aren't good enough. At least, that seems to be the trouble with Quinlan Record Service, who, for the third week ran into just such a gang under the name of Tom Lynch Boosters, so after things died down they found they were three games lower than the previous week.

After dropping the first game, Wolff and Watt Hardware came back with two beautiful games of 940 and 899 to win two of the three from Del Bonnem Tailors. Boulevard Drug keeping up the good work of the last several weeks downed McDaniel Candy Co. two out of three.

High individual game of the evening went to Barrett of Lynch Boosters, who rolled a 254. High individual series was taken by Berg of Quinlan Record Service, with games of 223-212 and 230 for 665. High team game, Wolff and Watt with 940. High team series, Wolff and Watt, 2,680.
