NEW TRIER HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

"Current History Is in Newspapers" Topic of Talk for Students

Donald Grant, traveler, lecturer, and interpreter of world conditions, spoke to an assembly of history students at New Trier High school on Wednesday of this week.

According to Mr. Grant, contemporary history is "in the newspapers." One of his aims, he explained, is to help people to see and understand the contemporary world, and to supply the background and interpretation which even good newspapers cannot provide.

Mr. Grant is a graduate of Edinburgh university, having specialized there in languages, history, and economics. After the university he studied theology.

In the past 8 years he has lived and worked in various parts of Europe, including Geneva, Vienna, and Soviet Russia. He "covered" most of Europe in travel over half a dozen times, lived four years in New Zealand, and visited India and Australia.

Since 1930 he has made a special study of international affairs. Austria honored him for six years of relief work after the war. He holds the gold medal of Vienna university, and that of the University of Innsbruck as well as other academic honors from Austria. In 1936 and 1937, invited by the Institute of International Education, New York, he lectured and answered questions in 25 American colleges and universities.

School Library Will Observe "Book Week"

November 13 to 19 is national book week, and the New Trier Township High school library is planning to observe it by the following projects: distribution of book marks made by the art classes of Miss Catherine M. Murphy and Mrs. Marie A. Holland; display in the school book store show window on the theme, "New Books—New Worlds."

The New Trier "News," a student weekly publication, is giving the library space of a double spread for several features concerning book week, such as book reports by students in sophomore library science classes, an annotated list of 30 new books in the school library, and the printing of the two book marks which were chosen for block printing.

There will be the usual display of book jackets on the classroom bulletin boards during this week, it was added.

"Outlook for Youth" Will Be Subject of Speech at Assembly

Dr. Homer Price Rainey, director on the American Youth commission, a non-governmental agency that is studying and planning a comprehensive program for the care and education of American youth, will speak to New Trier High school seniors at 10:45 o'clock on Monday morning, on the subject, "The Outlook for Youth." This assembly is arranged for the seniors in connection with the vocational adjustment program at the school.

Before becoming director of the commission, Dr. Rainey had been president of Bucknell university, Lewisburg, Pa., for four years. At Bucknell Dr. Rainey had earned a national reputation among educators for sponsoring a modern type liberal education program in which the arts were given a prominent part.

Was College President

Dr. Rainey, now 42, has also served as president of Franklin college, Franklin, Ind., for four years, and prior to that was professor of education at the University of Oregon. He has served as special lecturer on the summer school faculties of the University of Texas, the University of Chicago, and the University of Minnesota.

Born in Clarksville, Texas, Dr. Rainey received his bachelor of arts degree from Austin college, Sherman, Texas. His master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees were earned at the University of Chicago, the latter in 1924. Three colleges have conferred honorary degrees upon him.

Dr. Rainey is the author of "How Fare Youth?" (1938) and numerous monographs on educational subjects. He is noted as a lecturer and as a student of youth problems. The work of the commission has been widely publicized in national publications.

NEW TRIER SHOP CLASSES

The auto shop classes of New Trier High school are visiting the Nash automobile plant at Kenosha, Wis., on Nov. 18. R. L. F. Biese-meier, of the school faculty, will be in charge of this excursion.

Sports Program for Girls to Culminate in Jamboree Nov. 21

Divided between two teams, dubbed "Northwestern" and "Illinois," girls at New Trier Township High school are now participating in a program which will culminate in a sports jamboree.

The program is in addition to the regular after-school intra-mural schedules.

Part of one period each week is used for the contests between the two teams, and points are awarded for each victory. Last Friday, following the week's tabulation, it was announced that "Illinois" is now leading, 44 to 39.

Finals on Nov. 21

Final games of the competition will be held on Monday, Nov. 21. Teams including at least two girls from each of the four classes will be chosen to play hockey and speedball.

Those who are not playing will be urged to act as cheering sections for their teams. They will use the cheers and songs of the colleges their teams represent, it was announced.

Sponsored by Girls

Lacrosse, speedball, tennis, and hockey are all part of the fall program of the gymnasium work, and the contest is being sponsored by the Girls' Athletic association, under the supervision of Miss Margaret E. Healy of the faculty.

It was emphasized that the program is one of social integration, whose purpose is training in group unity and interest in common projects. "The idea of recreation and fun is the major aspect of the plan," it was said, "And the culmination is to be the big sports jamboree on Nov. 21."

Collection of Carving Is Placed on Display

The exhibit of wood carvings in the display case in the library lobby at New Trier High school are from the collection obtained by Orval Simpson while in Oberammergau in 1933 and have been arranged by his son Leland, a junior at the high school, who was with him at the Passion Play in 1930 and in Oberammergau again in 1933. Alois Lang and Guido Mayer, who are outstanding carvers from this Bavarian village, are represented by large carvings in the display.
