"If you would like to learn to be a Sonja Henie," the committee announces, "you will have the opportunity of getting some figure skates, if they happen to be your size. There will also be some winter coats, and children's snow suits which are in good condition but have been outgrown and discarded. There will also be a treasure table where new things as well as used articles, such as bridge prizes, and Christmas articles which happen to be on no use to one person but will be valuable to someone else, will be on sale."

There will also be a newstand where subscriptions and renewals will be taken. A number of special Christmas club offers will be featured which will provide opportunity to make gifts of magazine subscriptions.
