Sea Scouts

By Tom Gatles

"Next week we meet at the harbor" was the joyful announcement made during the meeting. Of additional importance was the declaration that the cruiser was to be brought to the harbor from Chicago the middle of this week, and all Sea Scouts were asked to be present for the trip.

"The schooner will be launched within a short time" made the meeting more momentous, for this means activity unparalleled in our program.

The stream of test passers continued while other sea scouts took a turn at the sextant, using a bucket of water as an artificial horizon for making the observations. Although unobtrusive, this was the indoor season's last meeting, and definitely one of the most interesting. The bridge of honor is to be held May 9 in connection with the Boy Scouts' court of honor. On this occasion badges of rank will be awarded members of the Sea Scout Ship.

Membership now includes three officers and 19 Sea Scouts. The skipper is F. P. Maas, assisted by Ed Colegrove and Ed Goelz as mates. The crew leaders are George Randall, Everett Eckenbeck and Julian Smith, aided by officers junior grade: B. Richards, T. Lucas, and E. Jones respectively. Active Sea Scouts in the crews are B. Baker, R. Jones, F. Stread, G. Tackels, G. Miller, L. Mitchell, R. Wilson, T. Gatles, J. Rusch, D. Wilder, N. Compire, C. Stephenson. This group comprises the present Sea Scout Ship Ouilmette.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kremer, 723 Laurel avenue, motored 1,500 miles to Lexington, Mo., week-end before last to visit their son, Charles Kremer, who is teaching English at Wentworth Military academy. Mr. and Mrs. Kremer were present for government inspection of the academy which was taking place at that time.
