A soft colored jersey suit is the smartest thing in the world right now under your dark winter coat — and it will be simply marvelous later on when you rush around under Spring skies. You can choose the one at the left with rib-hugging jacket buttoned way to your throat with a double row of tiny buttons — or you can choose the one at the right with three rows of buttons and finished with smartly flared high lapels — and they both come in delicious shades of powder blue, dusty rose, aqua, beige, and gray — sizes from 12 to 18.
