Leslev Frost to Found
Book House at Rockford

Lesley Frost, the daughter of the poet, Robert Frost, has been appointed to the English department of the Rockford college faculty, and will have as one of her first duties the founding of a college Book House and literary center on the campus. The new Book House will be known as "Maddox House," in honor of the former president, Dr. William A. Maddox, and will be in his old home.

Miss Frost, who is almost as well known in literary circles throughout the nation as her famous father, is eminently qualified to act as an adviser for the projected house. Her own book store, The Open Book, in Pittsfield, Mass., has become famous for its lectures and readings, in which such distinguished writers as Walter de la Mare, Robert Frost, Dorothy Canfield, Padraic Colum, Carl Sandburg, and Vachel Lindsay took part.

Miss Frost was also the originator of the first Book Caravan which traveled over New England; an invitation to take a book store around the world on the S. S. Franconia followed this successful venture.

GUIDE LECTURE TOUR

A guide-lecture tour on "Primitive and Civilized Peoples" will be given for the general public at Field Museum of Natural History Tuesday morning, August 14, at 11 o'clock. At the same hour on Wednesday the subject will be "Animal Groups"; on Friday, "Minerals and Prehistoric Life," and next Monday, "Plants." In addition to these special tours there are general tours of anthropological, botanical, geological and zoological exhibits twice daily, except Saturdays and Sundays, at 10 o'clock a.m. and 3 o'clock p.m. No charge is made for these tours, which are conducted by staff lecturers. Parties assemble inside the north entrance. All museum visitors are entitled to participate.

JULY CHOICE

A novel of life in a Lancashire cotton town during the boom and slump in 1919-1920, entitled Harvest in the North by James Lansdale Hodson, was the July choice of the Book Society in England. Alfred A. Knopf announces that he will publish it in the United States on August 13.

Mrs. Fred Workman, 222-Leicester road, Kenilworth, entertained her bridge club at luncheon Wednesday.
