Autumn Setting Is Chosen for Farmer-Chinnock Marriage

Moiré gowns of gold and rust were worn by the bride's attendants in the wedding of Miss Martha Farmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Farmer, 915 Elmwood avenue, and Dr. Gordon G. Chinnock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chinnock of Grand Rapids, Mich., which took place at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at St. Francis Xavier church. Two large urns of white chrysanthemums on either side of the altar and a few of the same flowers on the altar itself carried out the autumn setting for the ceremony.

A white satin gown made simply with a short train and a little shirring on the front of the bodice was worn by the bride. A tulle veil was fastened to a Juliet cap with clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried an all-white bouquet of carnations, asters, and small pompons.

Short puffed sleeves, heart shaped necklines and very full skirts were selected for the style of the attendants' dresses, which were worn with off-the-face hats in brown silk and brown slippers. Miss Eleanor Idler of Wilmette, the maid of honor, was in gold, and the bridesmaids, sisters of the bride, Miss Mildred and Miss May Farmer, were dressed in rust moiré. The latter carried bouquets of small rust pompons, and Miss Idler a bouquet of gold pompons.

White chrysanthemums, and yellow and rust pompons also were used for decorations at Shawnee Country club where a reception was held following the ceremony. Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Hubert Bosen of the Church of the Guardian Angel in Chicago, a cousin of the bride.

Norman Chinnock of Detroit served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Max Kuehnert, Lloyd Beach, and Dr. Maurice Schwartz of Chicago, Gordon Grant of Detroit and Alvin Clayton and Robert Mitchell of Glencoe. Frederick Chinnock of Grand Rapids, another brother of the bridegroom, played the organ.

Mrs. Chinnock, mother of the bridegroom, who was here with Mr. Chinnock for the wedding, wore a gown of lavender velvet and a corsage of matching orchids.

Also here for the wedding were Miss Mary Knight of Appleton, Wis., a schoolmate of the bride at Lawrence college, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Grant of Detroit, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Leo O'Reilly of Grand Rapids, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bridges of Milwaukee, and John Manning of Grand Rapids, a friend of the bridegroom.

Dr. and Mrs. Chinnock are motor-ing through the southern states on their wedding trip, and when they return will be at home after December 1, in an apartment at the Linden Crest in Wilmette.

Her Home Is on South Side of Chicago

Until her marriage Saturday afternoon, November 6, Mrs. John Melton Connard was Edna Louise Varney. Her marriage to Mr. Connard took place in the home of her mother, Mrs. William Philip Varney, in Wilmette. Wearing a petticoat wedding dress of white lace coat over satin, and a tulle veil held to her head with a coronet of seed pearls, the bride carried white roses and lilies of the valley. She and her husband are now at home on the south side of Chicago.

Engagement Announced at Tea in Winnetka

The engagement of Miss Barbara Jane Watrous of Winnetka to Claude T. Huck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Huck of Riverside, was announced Sunday at a tea given by Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Watrous at their home, 399 Ridge avenue. The wedding is planned for the spring, and will probably take place early in April.

Mr. Huck is a graduate of Dartmouth college, and his fiancée attended Mary Baldwin college in Virginia.

One of the guests at Sunday's tea was Hubert James of New York City, who was spending the week-end in Evanston with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. James A. James.

Announce Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde I. Terrill of Wild Rose, Wis., announce the marriage of their daughter, Monna Evelyn, to Wilbur George Glover, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Glover, formerly of Wilmette, on Saturday, November 20, at Wild Rose. Mr. Glover and his bride will be at home after December 1, at 722 Reba place, Evanston.

Erickson-Beu Wedding Takes Place Nov. 27

Miss Marie Erickson, at her marriage Saturday to Clarence Beu of Evanston, will be attended only by her sister, Grace, and the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Beu of Crystal Lake, has asked John Connard of Chicago to be his best man. The ushers will be the bride's brother, Alfred Erickson, and Julian Imig of Chicago.

Following the ceremony, which Dr. Samuel Harkness is to read at 4:30 o'clock in the chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Erickson, will hold a reception at their home, 565 Hawthorn lane.

Mr. Beu and his bride will be at home late next week at 7691 Rogers avenue, Chicago.

A miscellaneous shower was given November 12, by Mrs. William Crawford of Chicago, for the bride-elect, and a second shower was given Monday evening of this week at the home of Miss Marjorie Mason of Evanston, by Miss Mason and Miss Mary Jane Maloney of Chicago.

William Peacock and Bride Wed in Ceremony at Home

Wrought iron candelabra two hundred years old, brought from Italy by the bride's parents, held tapers for the simple home wedding ceremony of Miss Mary Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Victor Young, 257 East Delaware place, Chicago, and William G. Peacock, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Peacock of 128 Sixth street, which took place at 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

The ceremony was performed before an altar formed of palms, lilies and roses, the couple repeating their vows at a white satin prie-dieu. Following the ceremony, a reception also was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was dressed in a white brocade gown simply made with tight-fitting bodice, a train and long sleeves. A tulle veil edged in heirloom lace which had been in the family several generations, and a bouquet of camellias and lilies of the valley completed her costume. She wore a string of pearls started for her as a child by her father and completed on her wedding day.

The bride's one attendant, Mrs. Grier Patterson of Wilmette, matron of honor and sister of the bridegroom, wore a gown of copper slipper satin made similar to the bride's except for short sleeves, and carried a bouquet of purple violets. In her hair was a coronet of the same flowers. Raymond Ickes served Mr. Peacock as best man.

Mrs. Peacock, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in deep blue sapphire crepe with a corsage of white orchids, while Mrs. Young, mother of the bride, chose pale grey brocade and a spray of lavender orchids.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the ceremony was Miss Betsy Beeler of Tennessee, the bride's roommate at Vassar college for four years.

Following the wedding Mr. Peacock and his bride departed for French Lick to spend ten days and then will go on south, returning home shortly before Christmas. They have not definitely decided where they will live but probably are to make their home in Evanston.

Bride in December

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Kraft of 1236 Greenwood avenue, Wilmette, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Hazel Martha, to Arthur L. Eilers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Eilers of 730 Sheridan road, Wilmette. The wedding will take place Wednesday, December 29. Miss Jane Rosencrans of Chicago, formerly of Evanston, entertained Monday, November 22, at a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Kraft.
