High School Juniors Write on Vocations as English Project

Juniors at New Trier Township High school are writing themes on vocations. Each student has selected a vocation and will write a theme on it. Each class spends a month on this project.

A room adjacent to the school library has been fitted up with equipment and the books and pamphlets on vocational subjects have been collected there.

"Material is still desired. If any of the townspeople have copies of magazines useful in vocational reading that they would be willing to donate to the school for this use, will they please call the school and ask for Miss Eleanor R. Libbey, the librarian, and tell her? Arrangements will be made to call for it. Magazines that would be useful are 'Fortune,' trade journals, or vocational magazines," was the request made this week.

New Trier's Debate Teams Are Victors Over Waukegan High

On Wednesday, March 26, New Trier High school's affirmative team, Robert Gruhn, Robert Matthews, and Richard Lehman, won over Waukegan negative team at New Trier. Waukegan debaters were entertained by the Gavel club and Forensic board of New Trier with a banquet with 22 guests present. After the banquet a splash party was held in the New Trier swimming pool.

On Thursday, March 27, at Waukegan, New Trier negative team, Robert Gruhn, Wilcox Hodgkins, and Clifford Goodman defeated Waukegan affirmative team.

At the debate tournament held in Joliet, Robert Matthews and Richard Lehman represented New Trier on the affirmative side, and Robert Gruhn and Clifford Goodman on the negative. New Trier won six out of eight debates, defeating Hinsdale, St. Mel, St. Ignatius, Maine, Joliet, and Wheaton.

The following debates were scheduled for the current week: Wednesday, at New Trier, Morgan Park Military academy, affirmative and negative, vs. New Trier; also Franklin Park affirmative and negative vs. New Trier. Thursday, Hinsdale affirmative and negative vs. New Trier. Friday, Proviso High school affirmative at New Trier, and New Trier affirmative at Proviso.

High School Alumnae Honored at Rockford

Miss Nancy De Beers, freshman at Rockford, received a book award for her designs for the scenery of the freshmen play, Tennyson's "Becket." Book awards are made for outstanding work and are announced semi-annually. Miss de Beers was one of six freshmen to be so honored.

Miss Ruth Ebeling is on the president's honor roll at Rockford. Both girls took part in the freshmen play in January.

Miss Frances Rapp and Miss Betty Jane Browning, both sophomores at Rockford, have been named members of Socratic Honor society. Miss Browning is also very active in athletics and Miss Rapp in dramatics. All are recent graduates of New Trier High school.

Frosh Beat Sophs in Girls' Cage Tourney

The freshman first team defeated the sophomore first team, 15 to 8, Monday, in the semi-finals of the girls' intramural basketball tournament at New Trier Township High school.

The sophomore seconds won over the freshman seconds, 22 to 21.

The freshmen first will meet the junior first next Monday.

Imogene Chancellor is captain of the freshman firsts, Marian Woolhiser of the sophomore firsts, and Helen Clark of the junior firsts.

NEED WORK

With the advent of spring and mild weather householders will have much work in connection with the taking down of storm windows, putting up screens, raking lawns, spading gardens. New Trier High school through the student placement department is able to furnish competent boys to do such work. By calling Samuel S. Vernon at the high school any time during the day, needs for help with work of any kind will be met, it was explained.
