AT CCC ANNIVERSARY

These photographs were taken Friday of last week at the Skokie Valley camp of the Civilian Conservation Corps during the celebration marking the fifth anniversary of the corps' establishment. So great was the response to the invitations for the "preview" on Friday that two large mess halls had to be opened to accommodate the visitors.

Upper left: Captain Harold Snell of Hubbard Woods, E. J. Lundin, principal project superintendent, and John McLaren, liaison officer between the Army and the National Park service in the sixth corps area.

Upper right: Captain Douglas B. Pomgratz and Captain Harry E. Cooper, both of the army reserve, members of the camp staff.

Lower right: three Winnetka officials, William B. Moulton, village president, George B. Caskey, park superintendent, and Herbert L. Woolhiser, village manager.

Inset: George R. Young, Glencoe village manager.

GRANDSON IS GUEST

William Magee Raiguel, Jr., of Philadelphia will be the guest of his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Milton R. Barker, 730 Central avenue, over the week-end. He is a senior at the University of Pennsylvania, and with eighteen classmates in the engineering department is now touring through five cities.

Record to Tell Story of Air Mail to World

A unique plan commemorating National Air Mail week, May 15 to May 21, has been developed by United Air Lines and Columbia Broadcasting system, and was placed in effect Tuesday, April 5, with the dispatch from Chicago of a blank radio transcription record on a globe-circling journey via air.

Carrying introductory remarks made at Chicago Municipal Airport by Postmaster Ernest Kreutgen, the record was flown on United's overnight Mainliner sleeper to San Francisco, where the second part of the transcription was made on Treasure Island, scene of the 1939 World's Fair.

Departing from San Francisco on the China Clipper, the record will stop over at Honolulu, London, Berlin, Rio de Janeiro, Havana, Miami, and finally Washington, D. C. At each of these stops postal and aviation officials will broadcast a brief salute to the twentieth anniversary of United States air mail, transcribing their message on the globe-circling plate.

The complete transcription will be presented formally to United States Post Office Department at the conclusion of its trip and the collection of messages from foreign cities will be broadcast over a coast-to-coast network.

Earl Thulins Are

Parents of Twins

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thulin, 635 Ridge road, Kenilworth, announce the birth of twin boys at the Evanston hospital on Thursday, March 31. One of the babies has been named Charles Norman Thulin, II, for his grandfather, Charles N. Thulin of Marshalltown, Iowa, and the other baby is David Earl Thulin. Mr. and Mrs. Thulin also have a small daughter, Gene, who is 3 years old. Mrs. Thulin and the twins expect to return home from the hospital on Monday.
