EDITORIAL...

This fall there were 600,000 high school students without teachers. The teacher strikes have hurt the Great Society where it hurts the most, its youth. Many critics feel the high school instructors have a duty to fulfill to their country and also feel these respected members of our communities are breaking the law which prohibit strikes by public employees.

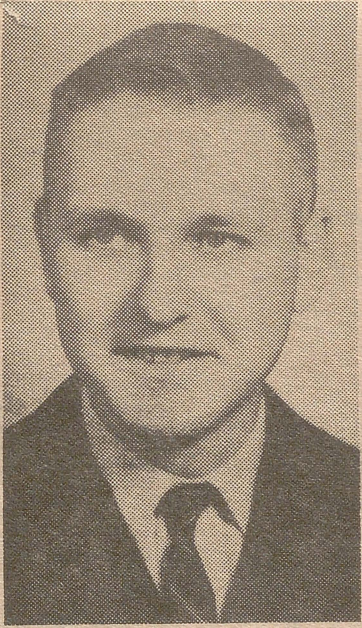

The students are being used and harmed in a problem they can do nothing about. However, the striking teachers have a real and legitimate reason for such drastic conduct.

According to the United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, the average income of all families in the United States is $5,737, about the same as a high school teacher's income. However, the medium income of all families where the head of the family has completed 4 years of college is $9,264, a far cry from the teacher's pay.

The school instructor's salary is comparable to the average head of the family which has completed 1 to 3 years of high school.

The blame shouldn't be placed on the teachers, but upon their employers, the voters and tax payers, who have been underpaying their public employees for years.

STANLEY MROZEK

Mr. Stanley Mrozek, who resides at 510 Eighth Ave. with his wife Julie, is the new History of Western Civilization and Geography teacher at Alpena Community College.

A graduate of Riverside High School in Milwaukee Wisconsin, Mr. Mrozek then went on to further his education by getting a B.E. from Wisconsin State University and an M.A. at Marquette University.

Mr. Mrozek has many (Continued on Page 4)

Cuff's Quotes

John Miller not only edits "The Timber-cruiser," but also plays intramural basketball, and this school year will tell us in which field he is more skilled....

Alpena must be one of the most sportsminded colleges in Michigan. After all, what other school has a Boyer (Ken, Clete, or Cloyd), and an Orr (Bobby, or Jimmy) on its teaching staff.

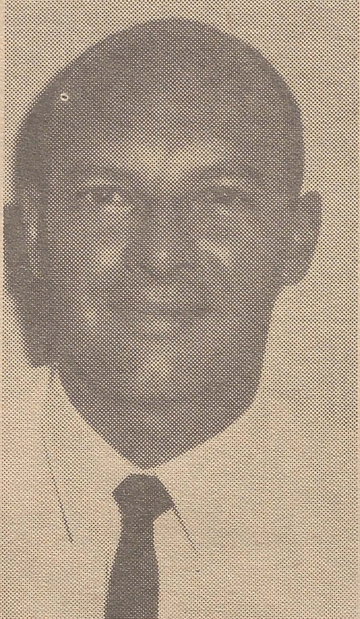

Joel Secrist must be planning to build a tight-wire cycling act. His bicycle was parked on top of the construction company van parked in front of the dormitory. Although the top of the van is fairly wide, that isn't a bad place to start, in a few years he could be working for Ringling Brothers Circus.

NOTICE

All students who do not have car stickers for this year are requested to obtain them from the Student Affairs Office as soon as possible. Students who live in the resident hall may obtain them from Mr. D'Atri.

LAWRENCE BOYER

Lawrence B. Boyer, a new English instructor at Alpena Community College, is impressed with the friendliness of the staff and students. A native of Ironwood, Michigan, Mr. Boyer attended Northern Michigan University where he received his M.A. in English. Mr. Boyer is married.

Although this is his first year of college teaching, the new instructor previously taught high school in Bergland, Michigan.

Mr. Boyer's interests range from studying the languages of the social studies to listening to the music of Miles Davis, John Coltrane, Bach, Mozart and Debussy. Hunting and fishing rank highest among his hobbies

ACC TESTED

First semester Alpena Freshmen are participating in a testing program during the first two weeks of this semester. All first semester freshmen have been scheduled into a testing session, at which time the American College Testing program (A.C.T.) is administered. The A.C.T. is cooperating with Alpena Community College in a study, this semester, which will determine the feasibility of using the A.C.T. for our college's placement program in the future.

If it proves feasible to use A.C.T. for placement at Alpena Community College, all of our new stu- (Continued on Page 4)

Circle K Gets Rolling At ACC

The Circle K Club of Alpena Community College is now in full swing for the 67-68 school year. All male students are invited to attend the weekly meetings of this service organization on Thursdays at 9:00 p.m. in the smoker lounge. Man on Campus

This is an article on and about the campus of Alpena Community College. It is written to keep the students informed and up-to-date on people and activities.

This reporter had the opportunity to interview a few members of the 19-67 freshman class; the largest ever to attend ACC.

Don Foster, 18, from Melvindale, Michigan, was so enthused about attending ACC that he came to Alpena a week early. Staying with a couple of sophomores that week and sleeping on a rock hard floor didn't seem to discourage Don, although his back had reverberations.

Don evaluates ACC as having a good outside appearance and an even better internal structure.

He is thinking about pledging SIGMA PHI ZETA Fraternity, which holds his interest.

The varsity baseball team is looking with anticipation to Don's spring turnout.

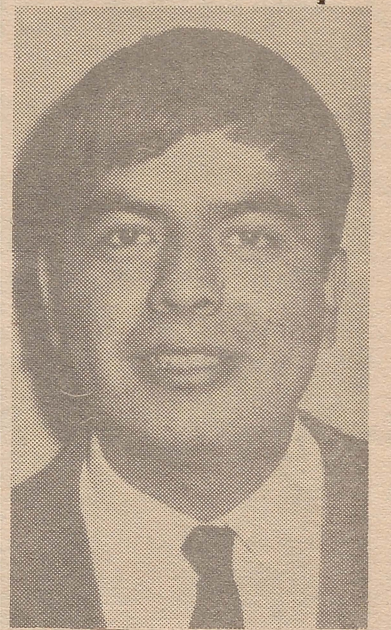

At the present time, Mr. Foster is a dishwasher in the Student Center cafeteria. Let's hope Don continues to climb the ladder of success.

One of the more attractive girls walking through the halls at ACC is Nora Minchew, eighteen and one-half years old, from a familiar city to residents of Alpena, Oscoda. Nora wears her blond hair in a short style and the easiest way to recognize her is by looking for quite wide-oval sunglasses covering her beautiful bright blue eyes.

Nora, who is on the EIP program, feels at home at

ROBERT E. DOMINIC

A.C.C.'s new chemistry instructor, Robert E. Dominic, graduated with the class of '67' from Central Michigan University, with a master of science degree.

Although born in Detroit, Mr. Dominic calls Petosky his home town. He attended Petosky High School and taught chemistry during his last semester at Central as assistant instructor in chemistry.

In high school he participated in track and basketball and college intramural sports. He also enjoys outdoor sports.

Mr. Dominic has been in the Alpena area for less than two months but likes it because of its location in the northern portion of the state. He has been married for five years and has a son four years old.
