Stork Arrives At ACC Hatchery

Since November 10, when 93,184 Chinook salmon eggs arrived at Alpena Community College, approximately all eggs have hatched. About two weeks after hatching, the salmon fry will lose their eggsacks and will have to be fed. The feed which comes in two sizes, starter, and number one, has been shipped from the Glencoe Mills in Minnesota. The water supply to the incubators is now being heated to a temperature of between 50 degrees F., and 54 degrees F. The total egg loss at the present time is approximately 1,000 eggs.

Dr. Duncel stated that the students' participation in the watch program at the hatchery has helped a great deal in the problem of keeping a constant check on the water temperature. The students check and record the temperature of the water each half hour and also do other chores at the hatchery.

Budget Committee Formed At A.C.C.

Under the advice of Mr. Ritter, the Student Government has formed a Budget Committee for Student Activities. The chairman of the Committee is Rick Hamilton, Treasurer of the Student Government and the secretary is Donna Froberg, Vice President of the Student Government.

The committee consists of representatives of every active organization of Alpena Community College. Its purpose is to set up a feasible budget for each organization for the following year. At the present, to get money for an activity the procedure is to pass activity through the Student Government with an itemized budget for the particular activity. (Continued on Page 5)

ACC Attends The MASG Conference

Three members of the A.C.C. Student Government, Don McLennon, Rick Hamilton, and Terry Cadieux, attended the first meeting of the newly organized Michigan Association of Student Governments, held at Michigan State University on November 10, 11, and 12.

Attending the conference were members of the Student Government from colleges throughout the state. Discussion groups were formed to try to work out solutions to similar problems each school has. Some of the problems included budgets, activities, and student participation. The main topic of discussion was about student (Continued on Page 6)

Snack Bar Is To Be Moved Soon

The Snack Bar will be moved from the lounge in Central Hall to the Student Center sometime after the first of the year. To replace it, vending machines will be placed in the Smoker.

This action has not been officially announced yet, but it is certain to happen. Mr. Ron Harr, Food Service Director, told me that this idea, contrary to one rumor, was not his. I was also told that the action was suggested by the Student Government, which is not correct. The idea was in fact initiated by school officials. The Student Government is the one who thought of putting in vending machines when the "Bar" is moved. (Continued on Page 6)

Election will be by ballot. The Queen will be announced at the dance and crowned by Dean Van Lare.

Tickets for this event are now on sale at $5.00 per couple.

Rumors Wrong As E.I.P. Continues

There has been a rumor lately, reasonably founded, indicating the Elementary Intern Program of Michigan State University might close down its operation in Alpena because of lack of students. This program, cooperative with Alpena Community College has been an important avenue for continued teacher preparation of A.C.C. stu- (Continued from Page 6)
