power. The question was "should the administration have the power of controlling all affairs of the school or should the students have more control?"

Northern Michigan University explained the recent McLellan Case to the group. The consensus of opinion of the students was that McLellan, an instructor at Northern, was given unfair treatment by the administration and that a teacher should have the right to express his feelings on a problem concerning his school.

Alpena Community College is in region number one which consists of Michigan Tech, Lake Superior State College, Northern Michigan University and A.C.C.

The objective of the M.A.S.G. is to get a closer unity among colleges throughout the state and to help each member with his problems. The organization will also back the Student Government of the colleges in their policies of student power and student rights.

The three floats that were entered in the Christmas Parade by the Sophomore Class, Sigma Phi Zeta and Circle K were greatly appreciated by the younger citizens of the city. ACC was well represented.

A local Miss Michigan Junior College Pageant will be held for the interested contestants from ACC. Entry deadline for the beautiful young misses is January 12th. February 16th is scheduled as the day of the local pageant. State finals are programmed May ninth through twelfth.

The winner of the State finals in the pageant is automatically established as a contestant in the Miss Michigan contest.

Those girls from ACC who are interested, contact local pageant director, Joel Secrist.

ACC was proudly represented by Miss Linda Christie in the contest last year.

Traditionally, Homecoming has been a special occasion. This year will not be different. Homecoming is scheduled for February 24th, when Henry Ford Community College invades our basketball realm.

Radio Drama Club Produces 2 Plays

The playwright, Edward Albee, whose plays helped start the avant garde movement in literature and writer of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," is the author of the two one-act plays that will comprise this year's college dramatic production.

Albee, typical of the avant garde school of writers, employs the shock treatment to make his audience aware of social attitudes that he feels are destroying the American culture. The two one-acts presented by the radio drama club, "The American Dream" and "The Zoo Story," is certainly no exception. Audiences will undoubtedly be shocked, but the result should be an examination of the individual's basic beliefs.

Casting for the one-acts have been completed and rehearsals are underway under the direction of Mr. Titus assisted by student Kathy Dailey.

The cast for "Zoo Story" is Peter played by Nelson Herron and Jerry, played by Ken Wegmeyer.

In "American Dream" the cast is: Mommy, Andi Timmreck; Daddy, Todd Brady; Grandma, Susan Martindale; Mrs. Barker, Judy Lazarowicz; and the Young Man, Joel Secrist.

Production crews have also been named. Crew heads are: Set Construction, Doug Smith and Dick Day; Costumes, Ruth Gamage; Light and Sound, Mike Pynnonen; Props, Charles Trafelet; Publicity, Judy Lazarowicz; Box Office and House, Mary McMahon.

The plays will be presented at the Alpena Civic Theatre building January 11, 12, 13. Admission is by student activity card or Alpena Civic Theatre season ticket.

If any veterans of the Armed Services are interested in forming a Vet's Club, please contact Mr. M. D. Orr for information and details. On many campuses around the state, the Vet's Club is considered popular and mature.

The reason that the Alpena News took their newspaper stand out of the dorm is quite obvious to the Resident Hall dwellers. Many students would pick up a paper without paying for it. Any complaints issued against the News are not warranted.

Dr. Richard L. Marquard, director of the local E.I.P. Center, reports continuation had been under discussion between the school district and university administration. The decision has been made: "Michigan State University has every intention of continuing the center operation of the Alpena/Oscoda Elementary Intern Program."

Snack Bar Is

Most students are not in favor of the Snack Bar being moved. 98% of those polled wanted it to stay where it is. However, the reasons given to me by Mr. Harr and Mr. Ritter for moving it are both valid and sound.

The Student Center should be used as much as possible. Also, all eating facilities should be under one roof. By moving the Snack Bar to the Student Center, both of these aims are met.

One of the main reasons for moving the "Bar" was so a more collegiate atmosphere can be obtained. The feeling is that there are two separate student bodies in ACC; the students from Alpena and those from out of town.

By putting the "Bar" in the Student Center, it will cause more mingling between these two bodies. Naturally, many students (and instructors) will grumble about having to walk "way down there" for lunch. However, the Student Center is only about 450 yards from Central Hall. That's not very far compared with most colleges. Anyway, I don't think the walk will hurt anyone.

Another reason for the move is that by using our Student Center as much as possible, the proposed new Student Union will be easier to justify. Or, as Mr. Ritter said, "Why build a

1-1/2 million dollar building if we don't use the one we have?"

The vending machines in the Smoker will be less convenient than the present situation. But the Administration is looking to the future, not just the present. That is, of course, the way it should be. Naturally, since this move has not yet been officially announced, it is still open to suggestions. If enough people want a different plan, it can be arranged. If no one has any better ideas, the Snack Bar won't be with us in Central Hall much longer.

THE SANDS OF TIME

The sands of time fall slowly on the earth.

Quite unaware of strife they bring.

As hatred and great war engulf our world,

And then a new day dawns, and with it comes new hope.

A restless world awaits the fate of all its people. As patiently they know it soon will end.

And only sounds of distant universes disturb its tranquil sleep.
