College President Jack Petoskey responded to these two requests by saying, "You know Ladies and Gentlemen, a College just doesn't exist, it evolves; it learns to grow. It slowly goes through the evolution stage. This is perhaps the most important thing that we should think about."

Concerning student-faculty grievances, Petoskey said, "It's easy for us to put a parking lot out there if we don't want to give our money to the facility. It's just that simple." Questioning the capability of the faculty to assist in developing educational programs, Petoskey said, "Is our faculty capable of developing programs in every area, such as nursing? Such as aquatic sciences? Such as environmental sciences?"

Questioning the ability of students to grasp the fundamentals of economics, Petoskey said, "What is the administrative work? This gentleman (referring to Jim) says that it doesn't amount to very much. But I'll tell you what. If he shared my salary, we probably both wouldn't be able to make a living or feed our children. At this point I'm sure he doesn't understand that. I don't believe the young man is married."

Defending the administrative position, Petoskey said, "We are not as naive to think that we don't know what is going on in our own schools. We may not present all of your views, but somewhere there has to be a consensus of the mind. This is the administrative process."

The Board has taken the requests under advisement for further consideration and has promised an answer at the next regular monthly board meeting, scheduled for April 28.
