

Instructor Sonya Titus holds her English 112 class outdoors in the grass behind the NRC building.

Some students in ACC's Summer Art Program "ART rageous" made dinosaurs. Here, student Matthew Pugh spray paints his dinosaur while instructor Joe Donna looks on.

ACC summer student Judy Cross enjoys studying outside of BTC.

Ever wonder what happens
on campus
during the summer?

The ACC 1993 4th of July parade entry buzzes with activity.

photos by Linda Simpson

The administration staff of ACC stayed busy during the summer. Here, Chuck Wiesen and his secretary, Suzanne Geiersbach, work on a new computer program.

Through the Summer Youth Employment program, Angel Bonno waters flowers around the ACC campus.

Green grass and flowers replaced the white snow that covers the ground of ACC for most of the school year.