

Photo Story

October 28, 2003

Page 12

A Spooky Night for a Good Cause

Haunted House Helps ACC's Nursing Program Raise Money

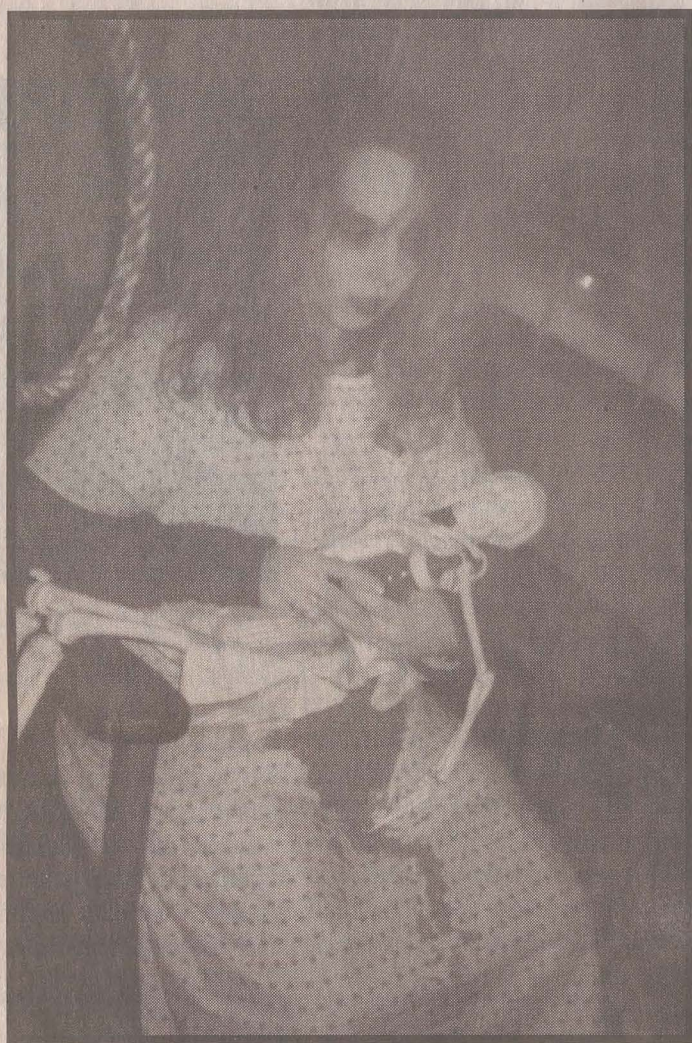

A bowl of tasty treats for those who braved the haunted house and made it through.

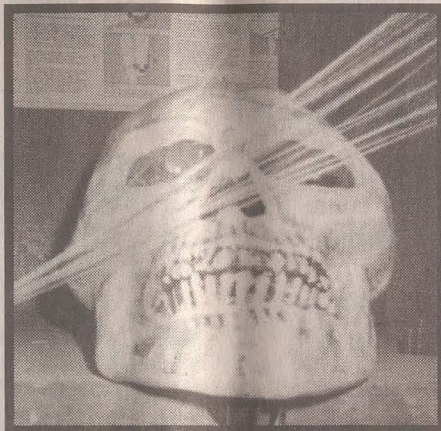

This home was the first medical clinic in Alpena and some of the patients treated here, never really left.

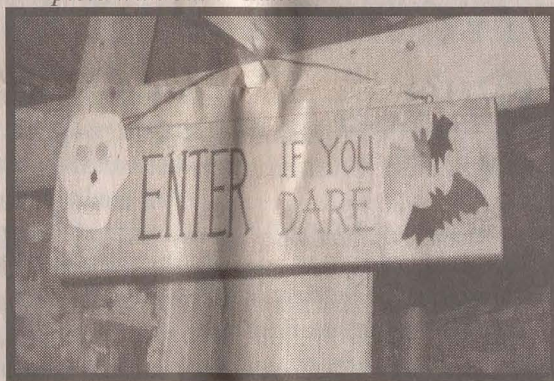

In this haunted house, you never knew who was hanging around the corner.

A mother rocking her baby to death was just one of the creepy sights within the haunted house.

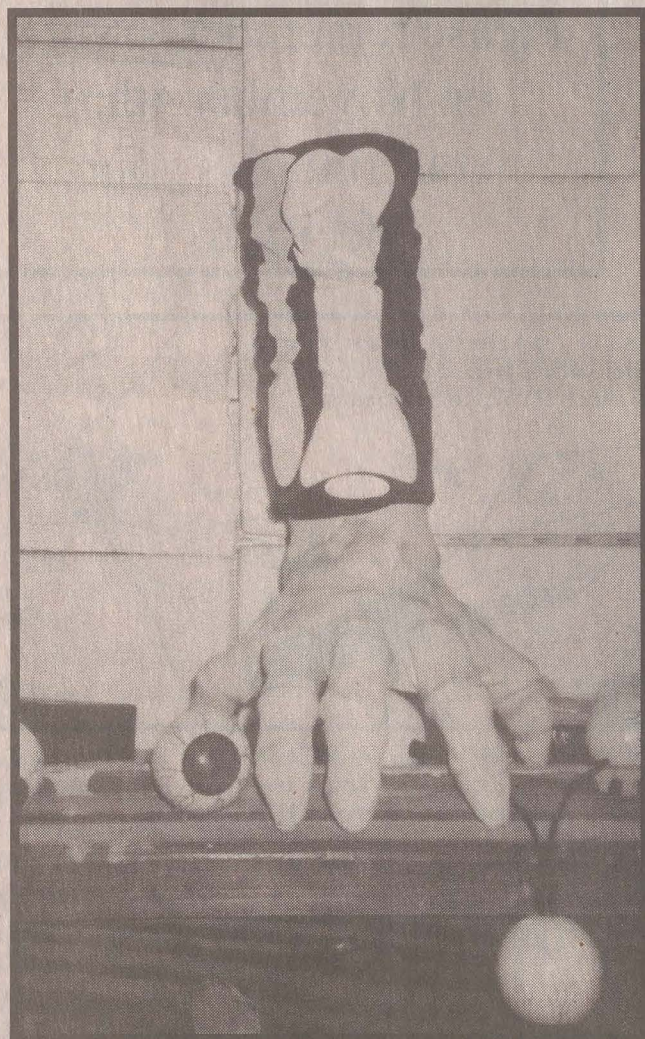

A haunted house would not be complete with out a skull.

This was the reassuring sign posted before you walk down the basement stairs into complete darkness.

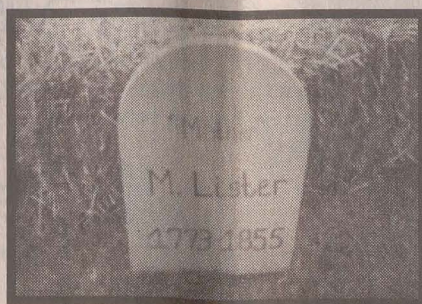

A very adorable, yet scary ghost who called herself Casper.

'Thing' from The Adams Family decided to drop by and lend a hand in scaring some folks.

This is standared proceedure in this clinic's operating room.

One of the many tombstones in the graveyard.

Bloody hand prints lined the walls of the operating room.

All photos by Kara Eubank