

FIELD TRIP SLATED FOR ACC PLAYERS

By Deb Ferriter

The ACC Players will see two plays, A Chorus Line and Bedroom Farce, on their November 7 trip to the Detroit area.

Five of the campus theater group's 27 members, and one non-member, will leave by car at 7 a.m., Saturday, November 7. They have reserved tickets for Saturday's 2 p.m. matinee of A Chorus Line at the Fisher Theater, and for Bed- room Farce at Wayne State University's Hilberry Theater that evening.

The group will return Sunday evening, leaving some time open to see movies, shop, or dine.

Though the trip is less than two weeks away, anyone interested in going along may still have a chance. Greg Tracey, the club president, said that he, Mrs. Titus or Mr. Miesen may be contacted.

Tickets are $21. Gas, food and lodging bring the cost to about $60. Anyone interested should act immediately.

FORMER ACC STUDENT IN DETROIT RECITAL

Ms. Toni Titus, a former Alpena Community College Student, will be a soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Dec. 10th and 12th in The Maurice Ravel Opera, Le enfant et le Sortilège (The Child and the Sorcerers). This children's fantasy opera describes the nightmare of a "naughty boy", who finds himself terrorized by the objects in his room. When he performs a good deed (binding the wound of a squirrel), he is released from his dream and the opera ends. Ms. Titus studied with local vocal coaches and ACC instructors Patricia Bunce and Robert Hein. She performed locally in several Alpena Civic Theatre and Thunder Bay Summer Theatre productions, and with the Alpena Choral Society, who awarded her a scholarship to study voice at Interlochen Arts Academy in 1978. She was guest soloist with the Alpena Civic Orchestra in their spring concert, 1980 and will be featured soloist with the Civic Orchestra at their concert Jan. 29, 1982. Ms. Titus is a graduate student at the University of Michigan Music School.

CAMPUS COLUMN

by Jackie Timm

When the Board of Trustees at Alpena Community College approved the appointment of Helen Malandrinos as Director of Nursing and Allied Health Education, they opened the doors to development of a new field at the college.

Although the Practical Nursing Program has been part of the curriculum for many years, the allied health fields are now growing.

A registered nursing program which would award an Associate Degree in Nursing (ADN) is in the state-mandated developmental process. A needs study has been completed and a curriculum development study is in the grant process. This program will be ready to begin in the fall of 1983.

This ADN program will be a ladder program. This means that after successful completion of one year in the program, a student can take the state boards for certification as a licensed Practical Nurse. Additional training in the second year includes programs that train a student to take the state boards for a Registered Nurse.

Some other allied health fields include dental assistant and hygienist, surgical technician, medical office assistant, pharmacy assistant, respiratory assistant, respiratory technician, plus many others.

Many Michigan Community Colleges have already developed extensive programs in these fields.

Part of the job description of the Director of Nursing and Allied Health Education at ACC is to determine needs and proposals for new programs in the health fields.

STUDENTS URGED TO INVESTIGATE ALTERNATIVES TO FEDERALLY FUNDED ASSISTANCE

Never before has it become so urgent for students to investigate alternatives to federally funded student aid programs, according to Steve Danz, Director of The Scholarship Bank.

Now that "Reagonomics" is the law of the land, students can expect to see reduced or completely eliminated federal programs. This will make it mandatory to seek out private foundations, civic groups and trade organizations.

The Scholarship Bank will send students in need of financial aid a questionnaire in which the student answers a number of questions concerning interests, major, occupational goals, and financial need.

The Scholarship Bank then sends the student a print-out of all available aid sources. According to the director, the average student is receiving over 45 different aid sources.

The information is up-dated daily and currently has in excess of 25,000 funding sources, making it the only service in which to find all available aid, including grants, loans, scholarships and work opportunities, for high school, undergrad and graduate students.

Students wishing to use the service (there is a modest fee) should send a stamped, self addressed envelope to The Scholarship Bank, 10100 Santa Monica Blvd., no. 750, Los Angeles, CA. 90067.

LIBRARY UPDATE

by Nancy LaFramboise

The college library sees new changes this year.

Alpena Community College Library this year hopes students will take advantage of their new books, magazines and newspapers that are now available.

The new arrival of books vary in selection from pleasure reading to detailed specialized books. Also, the library has an estimated two hundred magazines which range from cars, sports, glamour and home journal to the more specialized magazines for specific job areas.

New this year is the five daily newspapers from large cities across the United States. The newspapers are: the Houston Chronicle, Denver Post, Los Angeles Times, Boston Globe, and the Portland Oregonian. However, the library may be changing their subscription from daily to just Sundays, later on this year.

A new program will be beginning with an advisory staff committee. This committee will be manned by faculty and deans to advise the library members in matters pertaining to a long range plan of purchasing library material such as books, magazines, and newspapers.

Because of the cutback in the Work Study staff and the lack of students taking advantage of last year's late Friday night and Saturday openings; the library has rearranged its' hours.

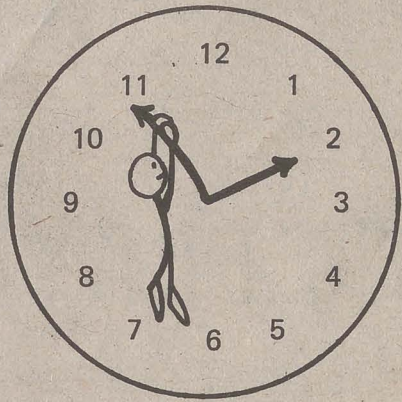

The library is in the Natural Resources Center, 2nd floor. The new hours this year are 8 a.m.-9p.m. on Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m.-4 p.m. on Friday.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME?

Here it is the end of October again and time to play with the clocks. Did you show up for church last Sunday and wonder where everyone was or turn on the TV to find out the football game was still an hour away?

Did the person or persons who thought up daylight saving time take into consideration the "Einstein Super Deluxe, Liquid Quartz Digital, Atomic Crystal controlled Tuning fork, Trigametric computerized, Programmable wrist watch"! After 23 hours 45 minutes and 85 seconds, I managed to set mine, within 45 minutes that is! I think the date is still correct, but the day of the week indicator is 3 days off, will have to work on that next week end. As for all the fancy computer functions, I am not sure I even want to try them.

Is all this messing with the clocks really necessary? Wouldn't it be easier to start work or school an hour earlier than normal? Setting the clocks is only a small part of the problem. All the people who work in public service jobs that require 24 hour service really have problems. Do they shift hours as well as the clocks, or does someone work a 9 hour shift in the spring and a 7 hour shift in the fall? How does management adjust the pay in these situations? Not that many people in this situation? Oh really! Just in the Alpena area alone how many: Firemen, Policemen, Water works, Power Company, Telephone, Weather Bureau, and medical workers are there? There are other occupations in this situation that are not in the Alpena area. When you stop and think about it, it affects a lot of people.

In closing, we would like to quote a line from the Detroit Free Press' column Guindon's Detroit, "The reason Elbert Hoyt refuses to turn back his clock is that if it were a respectable act, it wouldn't be performed at 2 A.M."

To the Editor:

I am a 30 year old, first year student at Alpena Community College. I have noticed that when the subject of dorm meals is mentioned to some students, unpleasant reactions occur. This leads me to believe that the quantity and/or quality of the food is inadequate. Not being one of the students having to eat this food, I can only draw conclusions from the students' comments. However, I decided to see for myself.

I visited the dorm and saw where the students eat their meals. The atmosphere of the room is not conducive to enjoyable dining. It is devoid of any decorations. There aren't any pictures on the walls. It has seven long institutional-type tables, one pool table, and one pin-ball machine. The room is reminiscent of a military chow hall that is intended for the speedy consumption of food and not a place for social interaction with fellow students. The only "personal" touches were signs directing students to submit their complaints about the food to a fellow student. Nonetheless, I feel that there is a way for ACC to alleviate this situation.

The 1981-82 Alpena Community College Catalog offers courses in Food and Beverage Service (FBS). The courses listed are: 110 Food and Beverage Management and Service, 115 Food and Beverage Purchasing, and 120 Food Production Principles. I feel that these courses could be incorporated into the food service at the dorm. It could utilize the work study program by having students cook, serve, and maintain a restaurant-like cafeteria. It could be similar to the one that was or still is being operated at Cheboygan High School.

I had the pleasure of giving a presentation to a high school class in Cheboygan in 1980. I gave me the opportunity to sample the food prepared by the students at the school. It was a restaurant-like set-up with pictures on the walls, tables for four, carpet on the floor, table cloths and napkins with real silverware on the tables. All the food was cooked by the students and served to the students by the students studying food preparation courses. Some of the clientele were people who came to the school to buy their lunches.

With this type of facility, lunches could be offered to students, teachers, and the general public at reasonable prices. This money could help defray the cost of setting up this program. I would be very interested in getting involved in a food preparation and management course since my main objective is to own and operate a bar/restaurant in the future.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Many military dining halls now have a better atmosphere than our dormitory dining hall.

Dear Editor:

I have a few comments I wish to direct to your "Manifested Freshman", so Mr. Reeves, start punching.

"Manifestations of a Freshman" in the October 14 issue of the Update was not only written in poor taste, but any freshman comp student should be aware of how erroneous it is to make broad generalizations. To be fair, I will agree that there probably is a number of instructors at ACC who cancel classes frequently, but I must maintain that the number is small. The vast majority of instructors attend their classes regularly, even when the students don't. These instructors meet their obligations diligently, even when they are ill, tired, having a personal crisis, and yes, even when they've suffered the loss of a loved one, I can attest to their existence.

Perhaps my experience at ACC has been quite different from Mr. Reeves', but I am by no means unique. My instructors have, in my opinion, been of the very highest caliber. They have been sincerely interested in my progress as a student, and are dedicated, hard-working people. In my three semesters at ACC, I have had only one instructor whom I felt might not have been the best, and that instructor NEVER cancelled a class.

Whether you believe it or not, Mr. Reeves, instructors are humans, not infallible androids. They have homes, families, mortgages and pain, just like the rest of us. In dealing with them, both as people and teachers, I have found them to be cooperative and understanding to a fault.

You are, of course, entitled to your opinion, however misinformed it may be. It would be advisable, however, unless you intend to present your column as mere cynical sarcasm with little or no value, to make an honest attempt at fairness. You have effectively insulted, through implication, some very special people.

Sincerely,
Sharyn Owens

1981-82 LUMBERJACKS LINE-UP

by Bill Garant

Has anyone noticed how bare the trees around campus are beginning to look? It's almost impossible to not realize how cold it is in the morning....for that fact, all day! The signs all show that winter is just around the corner, and with it the beginning of the 1981-82 basketball season at ACC.

Both coaches have been getting their Jacks ready for the rapidly approaching season. Frank McCourt will head the women's team who are returning after being the Eastern Conference champions last year. Fred Paulsen will begin his first year at ACC as head coach of the men's team. Both teams have been working hard and are sure to create some excitement this season. The men's team will consist of all new faces, with the exception of Earl Ewing who is returning from last year's team.

This year's team includes: Steve Bock, a 5'10" Freshman from Alba, Michigan, Earl Ewing a 6'3" Sophomore from Pontiac, Michigan who will also be team captain this year, Jerry Horn, a 6'5" Freshman from Elsie, Michigan, Eddie Johnson a 5'11" freshman from Detroit, Michigan, Rich Matzke, a 6'1" Freshman from Winona, Minnesota, Mark Mohre, a 6'5" Freshman from DeWitt, Michigan, Scott Raven, a 6'5" Freshman from Tustin, Michigan, Lou Rodgers, a 6'7½" Sophomore

Time is quickly winding down for both teams. The women start play with a scrimmage November 3rd at Northwood and another with Wurtsmith Air Force Base November 12 at Alcona High School. The men also will scrimmage W.A.F.B. Nov. 12 at Alcona.

As your faithful investigative reporter, I have found it necessary at times to delve deep into the dirty affairs of those who would choose to bring our little town to ruin. In what may be my greatest, no, the greatest story ever published, I will reveal to you the terrible facts which have led to the eventual closing of our learning institutions.

With this business of kids blaming administrators, teachers blaming parents, parents blaming bus drivers, bus drivers blaming teachers and parents, administrators blaming kids, parents, and bus drivers, parents blaming teachers with kids and bus drivers blaming administrators without parents, it has become difficult to see who really is at fault.

I have discovered that all this is only a contrivance for a much more dark and sinister conspiracy. The closing of Alpena schools, the conflicts of all the parties involved, and the ultimate end of Alpena, is all a Communist Plot!

I know this may be hard to believe for some, but I have indisputable, conclusive proof, that American society, the free world itself, is in danger of foundering before the great Red Tide and only Alpena stands in its way.

Brezhnev has put his finger on the maps and territories of the United States and has selected our wonderfully free little town as the location for Russia's secret submarine base. Somewhere deep in the catacombs of the Kremlin, he is right now discussing the possibilities with his top KGB men (KGB stands for Russian secret service), who have just returned from Alpena after assuring that the school system would fail by instilling suspicion and misinformation between the different factions and making sure there was no room left for compromise.

My secret source deep within the 10 their illicit base of operations. Missile silos will be implanted in various factories, although one might suspect that these would not be any more destructive than what is there now.

The other empty buildings will be used as P.O.W. barracks for Afghan rebels and their yaks. One Russian official suggested several of the prisoners' rest room facilities be lettered in Polish and Iranian. That's really looking ahead I'll say! There are plans for a vodka factory also. Oh well, I guess we can take the good with the bad.

So, you can see the contesting parties in the millage conflict must reach a compromise. Not only does the educational welfare of our children and the economic well-being of our citizens depend upon it, but the very foundations of the free world. Put that in your pipe and smoke it.

LEARNING SKILLS CENTER

by Nancy LaFramboise

For the students who are having problems with their studies, the Learning Skills Center offers tutors.

The Learning Skills Center is located in Room 253 in the Natural Resources Center. It has a variety of programs to offer individuals in the areas of reading, writing, and mathematics. These three basic skills are divided into special areas where the student can improve skills such as: spelling, grammar, self-taught mathematics and improved reading, speed and comprehension.

If a student is having difficulties in his or her class, the General Tutorial Program enables the student to get a free tutor from the Learning Skills Center. Individual aid can be obtained to cover almost every class that is offered at Alpena Community College.

The LSC hours are: 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 6 p.m.-8 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

DEL SHANNON

VISITS ALPENA

by Elaine Wils

A popular rock star of the 1960's passed very quietly through Alpena last week, but I was lucky enough to catch sight of him in a local restaurant. I quickly choked down my hamburger and got up enough nerve to ask him a few questions.

Del Shannon, very courteously, agreed to chat about his fame of the past and what he hopes will be a promising new future.

Del not only sang and played guitar, but wrote most of his own songs. My favorite was "Runaway". He also produced a record "Gypsy Woman" for Brian Hyland. Del stayed in the business in the production field and was then lucky enough to meet Tom Petty and the two hit it off and decided to make an album with the Heartbreakers. Both men have busy schedules but managed to work it in and the album has just been released called "Del Shannon Drop Down and Get Me." Del said he is really happy with the outcome of it and plans on going on a U.S. tour to promote the album probably beginning in New York.

Del Shannon said he has lots of relatives in Michigan and was born in Grand Rapids. In the near future he hopes to buy property in the Traverse City area for summer fun, yet he said he will stick with that California sunshine for dirt bike riding in the winter.

Del, the day I spoke with him, had just finished jogging down Alpena streets enjoying the quiet life and beautiful colored leaves.

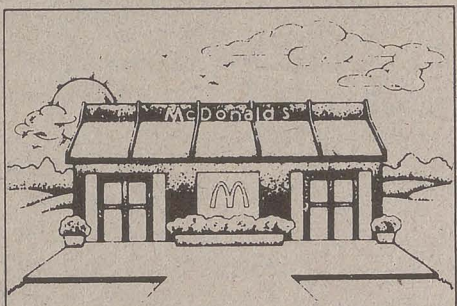

I asked Del what it felt like to be a star in the sixties, he answered it was great but that while touring with Dick Clark they were doing over three months of one nighters and it physically and mentally can burn a person out. That's why he said he is taking this little amount of time off before going on the road again. We wish Del the best in the future.
