Wrap-up

Women's TB Classic

With a score of 75-68, the ACC women's basketball team defeated Gogebic on Friday, November 20, at EAC.

Beginning the game with a slow start, the Lady Jacks strengthened their offense in the second half, making more rebounds and pulling ahead to victory. Despite late foul trouble, ACC still played well enough to win.

Tabatha Koger led ACC with 26 points followed by Marla Spring who aided her team with 17 points and Priscilla Cross who had 15 points. Koger's excellent rebounding during the game helped to insure her team's success.

This win enabled the Lady Jacks to continue in the tournament to the women's final on Saturday, November 21, where they played Glen Oaks.

Men's TB Classic

The ACC Men's basketball team were defeated in the championship game on Saturday at 7:00pm as they struggled against the undefeated Gogebic squad in this year's Thunder Bay Classic, losing 87-77.

In the first half ACC played well, showing aggression and good shot completion with the score at half-time Gogebic 44, Alpena 40.

In the Second half ACC's performance dropped when they missed many opportunities to score. Top scorers for ACC were Terry Green with 18, and Andre Reams with 15 points and 12 rebounds.

ACC vs WAFB

Alpena Community College dominated Wurtsmith AFB in men's basketball action Tuesday night with a 105-64 victory.

Top scores for the game were Andre Reams with 23 points and Richard Gamble with 20. Luberjack head coach Jim Barbera said, "It was really good practice and all the kids got to play."

The men's team will play tonight at Macomb at 8p.m.

ACC Extension Courses

What types of opportunities are offered at ACC beyond an Associates Degree? What types of extension courses and programs are there?

According to Rick Counsellor, counselor at ACC, Lake Superior State College is the college that mainly offers extension programs on the ACC campus. LSSC offers what is called "three plus one" programs, which involve an agreement between LSSC and ACC that students can complete four-year degrees in certain programs by attending ACC for three years and LSSC for one year.

The "three plus one" programs that are currently offered are: accounting, business management, marketing, law enforcement, and sport and recreation management.

Mary Jason is the coordinator for these programs and spends three days a week here in the LSSC office in VLH. This program is also offered at North Central Michigan College in Petoskey.

Michigan State University and Central Michigan University offer graduate level courses here during the summer.

STUDENTS SHOOT FOR A WIN

Congratulations to the winners of the Foul Throw Shoot Out. Winners were students who had the most baskets out of 20.

Winners of the men's division were, first place, Norm Sommerfield, shooting 19 out of 20. The second and third place winners were tied with 18 shots each. They were Jim Barbara and Matt Hiske. A total of 13 contestants participated for the men's division.

The women's division also had 13 contestants. First place went to Vicki McKiddie, shooting 17 out of 20. Sue Hubert was the second place winner with 13 shots. Third place winner was Lisa Smith, shooting 10 out of 20.

Congratulations once again to the winners.

ART RECEPTION

Alpena Community College Presents
FALL SEMESTER ART PROJECTS
 Students of the art classes at ACC will have on display some of the projects they have been working on during this fall semester.

The reception will be December 16, at 6:00pm in the Besser Technical Center Lobby. Everyone is welcome to attend this reception.

LSC Assists In Meeting Academic

The Learning Skills Center (LSC) is the one place on campus where students may find help in meeting academic needs.

The LSC, located in the Natural Resource Center, is funded by three sources: the college's general fund, the federal government, and the state government. The federal and state money are received as grants.

The federal grant comes from the United States Department of Education. It is called Student Support Services and serves 150 students, it is directed by Bonnie Urlaub. The grant amount last year, according to Urlaub, was $83,000.

The state grant comes from the Michigan Department of Education; it is called Special Needs. This program is coordinated by Audrey Voigt and serves 100 students. Urlaub stated, last year the LSC received $98,000 for this program.

In discussing qualifications for the grants, Urlaub outlined the requirements an ACC student must adhere to:

- 1) if the family income meets government criteria for low income, 2) neither parents graduated from a four-year college, 3) if a student is physically handicapped or has a certified learning disability.

According to Urlaub, two-thirds of the students in the program must be low-income and first generation college students or physically handicapped. The other one-third must be from one of the areas.

Alpena Community College's general fund furnishes academic support for all students who are not in either grant. The three sources funding the LSC allow all services to be provided at no cost to the student.

According to the LSC statement of philosophy, "It is the ultimate goal of the Learning Skills Center staff to enable students to function successfully in college through improving their academic skills and self-esteem."

The LSC provides the following services: tutoring for students who need help with their regular college classes, individualized courses in basic skills, directed studies in basic skills, counseling and advising, and study-skill workshop.

The LSC staff offers a setting to allow each student's learning capabilities to grow. The center will give academic assistance to all ACC students who request it.

All ACC students will receive free admittance to the MESSIA.

The musical will be December 20 at 7:30pm in the Alpena High School auditorium.

Most of the performers in the musical are past and present members of the musical program offered at the Alpena High School.
