

THE MANY FACES OF JAZZ

WITH THE "STEEL CITY SIX"

Presented by The South Central Regional Library System.

The 'Steel City Six' consists of six Hamilton-area musicians who teamed up to express themselves in the jazz idiom. Four of the six have been together for over four years. They have played a number of area lounges as well as the Grey Cup, Hamilton's "It's Your Bag Day" & local schools & libraries.

The current library series, sponsored by the South Central Regional Library System with the assistance of the Hamilton Musician's Guild, follows two earlier successes at Burlington & Oakville Public Libraries.

Their program "Many Faces of Jazz" consists of music taken from the repertoire of jazz groups from the turn of the century to the present, with a brief commentary to point out the difference in the musical eras: Dixie land, swing, bop & rock-influenced jazz.
